BALTIMORE:

PUBLISHED BY LUCAS BROTHERS,

NO. 170 BALTIMORE STREET.

PREFACE.

In offering to the public the twenty-third number of the Metropolitan Catholic Almanac and Laity's Directory, the publishers beg leave to state that the mode previously adopted for obtaining information in regard to the statistics of the church in the United States, was adhered to in this instance, and that in reply to the circulars addressed to the Most Rev. and Rt. Rev. Prelates, reports of their respective diocesses were received from all except two. Information received too late for insertion in the proper place, has been noted in the Corrections and Additions. The publishers would respectfully suggest, that a more detailed and categorical answer to the queries contained in the circulars, would enable them to furnish a much more satisfactory account of the Catholic statistics of the United States. Some of the reports are drawn up with all the necessary care and minuteness, while others leave much to be desired in these respects. Particular attention is requested to a correct and legible statement of the names and addresses of the Rev. clergy, as inaccuracy on this point is the source of much inconvenience.

The publishers tender their acknowledgments to the Most Rev. and Rt. Rev. Bishops and to the Rev. Clergy and others, for their assistance in the compilation of the Almanac, and respectfully request a continuance of their aid in the preparation of future numbers of the work.

NOTE. This table is arranged in order of longitude, and those places whose difference of longitude does not ezceed one minute of time, are united.

RISING AND SETTING OF PLANETS AND STARS.

It should be observed that these are not sensibly affected by the longitude of a place. When the hour is less than 6, it is in the morning; when greater than 6, it is in the evening.

COMMANDMENTS.

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS.

1. "I am the Lord thy God, who brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage. Thou shalt not have strange gods before me. Thou shalt not make to thyself a graven thing, nor the likeness of any thing that is in heaven above, or in the earth beneath, nor of those things that are in the waters under the earth. Thou shalt not adore them, nor serve them."
2. "Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain."
3. "Remember that thou keep holy the Sabbath day."
4. "Honor thy father and thy mother."
5. "Thou shalt not kill."
6. "Thou shalt not commit adultery."
7. "Thou shalt not steal."
8. "Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor."
9. "Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife."
10. "Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's goods."

COMMANDMENTS OF THE CHURCH.

1. The Catholic church commands her children, on Sundays and holydays of obligation, to be present at the holy sacrifice of mass, to rest from servile works on those days, and to keep them holy.
2. She commands them to abstain from flesh on all days of fasting and abstinence; and on fast days to eat but one meal.
3. She commands them to confess their sins to their pastor at least once a year.
4. She commands them to receive the blessed sacrament at least once a year, and that at Easter, or during the paschal time.
5. To contribute to the support of their pastor.
6. Not to marry within the fourth degree of kindred, nor privately without witnesses; nor to solemnize marriage at certain prohibited times.

N. B. 1. The fourth council of Lateran, Can. 21, ordains that "every one of the faithful, of both sexes, after they come to the years of discretion, shall in private faithfully confess all their sins, at least once a year, to their own pastor; and take care to fulfil, to the best of their power, the penance enjoined them; receiving reverently, at least at Easter, the sacrament of the eucharist, unless perhaps by the counsel of their own pastor, for some reasonable cause, they judge proper to abstain from it for a time: otherwise let them be excluded out of the church whilst living; and when they die, be deprived of Christian burial."

2. The time for the performance of the Easter-duty, may be extended within the United States, from the first Sunday of Lent to Trinity Sunday, both inclusively.

3. The solemnizing of marriage, that is, the celebration of the rite during the mass pro sponso et sponsa, or with a display of festivity, is prohibited from the first Sunday of Advent till after Epiphany, and from the beginning of Lent till after Low Sunday.

FASTING DAYS.

Friday in Advent. Every day in Lent, Sundays excepted. The Ember Days (see below.) The Vigil of Whitsunday or Pentecost, of the Assumption, of All-Saints, and of Christmas.

N. B. 1. When a fasting day falls upon a Sunday, it is kept on the Saturday preceding that Sunday. To fast, consists in abstaining from flesh-meat, and eating but one full meal in the day, not before 12 o'clock, M. Besides this, a collation, or about the one-fourth of a meal, is allowed in the evening. All who have completed their 21st year are obliged to observe the fasts of the church, unless exempted for some legitimate cause.

2. In some of the western diocesses the Friday of the Ember days is the only Friday in Advent on which there is an obligation to fast.

3. It has been directed by the sacred Congregation de Propaganda Fide, that the feast of SS. Peter and Paul be solemnly celebrated in the United States, on the Sunday immediately after the 29th of June, and it is the wish of the Sacred Congregation that the Rt. Rev. Bishops exhort the faithful under their charge, to keep fast on the Saturday preceding that solemn celebration.

DAYS OF ABSTINENCE.

All Fridays and Saturdays, except those Saturdays which fall between the 25th of Dec. and the 2d of Feb., inclusively,* and all the Sundays in Lent. When Christmas falls on a Friday, abstinence is not of precept.

* Abstinence on Saturday has been dispensed with, for the faithful of the U. States, for the space of twenty years, from the year 1840, except when a fast falls on that day.

EMBER DAYS.

Spring—Feb. 28, March	2, 3.	Autumn—September	19, 21, 22.
Summer—May 30, June	1, 2.	Winter—December	19, 21, 22.

The ember-days are the Wednesdays, Fridays and Saturdays, which occur 1st, in winter, immediately after the 3d Sunday of Advent; 2d, in the spring, immediately after the 1st Sunday in Lent; 3d, in the summer, during Whitsun-week; 4th, in the autumn, immediately after the 10th of September. They are days of fasting and are of great antiquity in the church. The object of their observance is, to consecrate to God the four seasons of the year, by penance; to obtain his blessing on the fruits of the earth, and to beg of him worthy ministers of the church. The ordination of clergymen generally takes place, in Catholic countries, on the ember-days.

HOLYDAYS OF OBLIGATION.

The Circumcision of our Lord—The Epiphany—The Annunciation of the B. Virgin Mary—The Ascension of our Lord—Corpus Christi—The Assumption of the B. Virgin Mary—All Saints—Nativity of our Lord or Christmas.

N. B. 1. Sundays and the feasts which fall on them, are not included in this enumeration.

2. In some of the Western Diocesses the Circumcision, Epiphany, Annunciation, and Corpus Christi, are not holydays of obligation.

3. The sanctification of Sundays and other holydays of obligation consists, 1st, in abstaining from servile work, from all commerce and manual labor, which is not necessary for the worship of God and the support of life; 2d, in returning to God by penance, cleansing our conscience, receiving the Sacraments, and performing other duties of religion. Among these duties, that of assisting at the holy sacrifice of Mass is the principal, and is binding under pain of mortal sin, unless sickness or some other important reason dispense us from this obligation. Though a person may be said to obey to the letter the precept of the church, by hearing Mass, it is certainly a great abuse to restrict to this point only, the whole sanctification which the law of God prescribes. To be satisfied with assisting at low Mass, without performing any other act of religion, as many Christians do, is to go against the spirit of the Church in that particular commandment, to disobey other commandments she has imposed, and not to satisfy the commandments of God.

LITURGICAL INSTRUCTION.

Explanation of the Ornaments and Ceremonies used in the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass.

All the external rites used in the celebration of the holy mysteries are intended for the instruction of the faithful. The chief design of these rites is to commemorate and to represent the passion and death of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. This is plainly to be observed in the altar and its ornaments, as also in the vestments which are worn by the priest.

As to the color of the ornaments with which the priest celebrates the holy mysteries, the White is used on the festivals of our Lord, of the B. Virgin Mary, and of all the saints who are not martyrs.

The Red is used on Pentecost, on the finding and Exaltation of the Cross, and on the Feasts of the Apostles and Martyrs.

The Purple or Violet, which is the penitential color, is used on all the Sundays and Ferias of Advent, and during the whole of the penitential time from Septuagesima Sunday till Easter; as also on all Vigils, Ember Days, and Rogation Days, when the office is of them.

The Green is used on all Sundays and Ferias from Trinity Sunday to Advent exclusively, and from the octave of the Epiphany to Septuagesima Sunday exclusively, when the office is of the Sunday; but in the Paschal time the White is used.

The Black is used on Good Friday, and in Masses of Requiem for the dead; which may be said on any day that is not a Sunday or a double, except from Palm Sunday to Low Sunday, and during the Octaves of Christmas, of the Epiphany, of Pentecost, and of Corpus Christi.

EXPLANATION OF THE CALENDAR.

Ap signifies Apostle—App Apostles—M Martyr—MM Martyrs—P Pope—B Bishop—C Confessor—D Doctor—Ab Abbot—V Virgin—Wid Widow—SS Saints—D M Days of the Month—D W Days of the Week—† marks the days of indulgence—hym. ch. means the change in the hymn Iste Confessor.

The prayers and portions of the Holy Scriptures of which the Mass is composed, are in part the same, and partly different every day. Those fixed are contained in the Ordinary of the Mass, at the beginning of the Missal. The parts changeable or proper are—the Introits, Collects, Gradual, Tracts, Epistles, Gospel, Offertories, Secrets, Communion, and Post-communions—form the subsequent contents of the book. As the Prefaces are not so frequently subject to change, they follow each other in regular succession in the Ordinary of the Mass.

If a double fall on a Sunday, then the Mass of the double is said instead of that of the Sunday, unless it be a privileged Sunday, such as the first Sunday of Advent or Lent, Passion, Palm, Easter, Pentecost, and Trinity Sundays, which are never superseded. The Sundays of the second class, which cannot be superseded except by doubles of the first class, are the second, third, and fourth of Advent, Septuagesima, Sexagesima, and Quinquagesima; as also the second, third, and fourth of Lent. It must, however, be remarked that the gospels of Sundays thus superseded by doubles are never omitted, but are recited at the end of the mass, instead of St. John's gospel; and also that a commemoration of the Sunday, by its proper collect, secret, and post-communion, is always made immediately after the collect, &c., of the festival.

As it sometimes happens that a double is transferred to some future vacant day, on account of the octave of some festival of higher rank intervening, then the difficulty of finding out the day on which such transferred festival is celebrated, as well as the other principal difficulties regarding the service, may be easily removed by consulting the following DIRECTORY, as a guide to the morning as well as the evening service of the church:

1. The office of every day is either double, semi-double, simple, or of the feria.

Of doubles (so called because the anthems are repeated entire, both before and after the psalms at Vespers) some are of the first class, marked thus in the calendar: doub. 1st cl.; others of the second class, and are marked thus: doub. 2d cl.; others are greater doubles, marked gr. doub.; others common doubles, marked doub., or d.

2. Doubles are kept on the day marked in the calendar, unless they fall on some Sunday of the first or second class, some privileged feria, or with certain octaves which take the place of the festivals; in which case they are transferred to the first day not marked either as a double or a semi-double.

Doub. 1st cl. denotes a great solemnity; doub. 2d cl. a lesser solemnity; greater double marks the feast to be of higher rite than a common double; double is the common and most general rank of saints; semi-double is less than a double; simple shows the feast to be of the lowest rite; fer., or feria day, is a week day having no feast; great fer. are weeks in Lent, Advent, &c.; Vig. vigil, is the eve of a great solemnity.

The Sundays of the 1st class which take place of all doubles are—
The first Sunday of Advent, first Sunday of Lent, Passion, Palm, Easter, Low, Whit and Trinity Sundays.

The Sundays of the second class which take place, also, of all doubles except those of the first class, and of which, in that case, a commemoration is made at mass and in both vespers, are the second, third, and fourth of Advent; septuagesima, sexagesima, and quinquagesima, the second, third, and fourth of Lent.

The ferias, which enjoy the same privileges as Sundays of the first class, are Ash-Wednesday, All Holy Week, Whitsun Eve, the whole octaves of Easter and Whitsuntide.

In like manner within the octave of Epiphany, no feast less than a first class can be kept.

On all other Sundays of the year, if a double occur, it is kept with a commemoration of the Sunday at Mass, and at Vespers also, except the following day be a feast of the first class.

3. A semi-double (so called because only a part of the anthem is said before each psalm at vespers) is marked in the calendar thus, semid., and occurring on any Sunday whatsoever, is put off to the first vacant day; that is, the first day on which there is neither double nor semi-double marked in the calendar. The same is to be observed of all semi-doubles occurring within the octave of Corpus Christi.

4. Simples have no mark in the calendar, and are never transferred; but if they fall on Sunday, oron any other day when the office cannot be said of them, a commemoration is made of the first vespers, and at mass; unless it be a feast of the first class, (on which no notice is taken of simples,) or of the second class, in which case a commemoration of them is made in the Lauds, and at a low private mass only.

5. The following ferias, called greater ferias, take place of all simples of which there is only a commemoration made at mass, viz: the ferias of Advent and of Lent, the Ember Days, and Tuesdays in Rogation Week. A commemoration is also made of the ferias of Advent, Lent, at vespers and mass, whatever feast happens; but of the Ember Days and Tuesday in Rogation Week, only at mass.

6. If a vigil happen within the octave, then the vigil, with a commemoration of the octave, unless there be a double or a semi-double feast that day, in which case the mass is of the feast, with a commemoration of the octave and of the vigil. But if a vigil occur on a feast of the first class, there is no commemoration made of it.

If a festival that has a vigil, fall on a Monday, the mass of the vigil is said on the foregoing Saturday, except the vigil of Christmas and of the Epiphany.

If a vigil happen in Advent, the mass is of the vigil, with a commemoration of the feria, except the vigil of Christmas.

If a vigil happen in Lent, or on an ember day, the mass is of the feria, with a commemoration of the vigil.

In the paschal time there is no office of vigil, except that of Ascension Eve, which, however, is no fast.

7. When several festivals have been translated from their proper days, they are afterwards to be kept in this order: first, those that are doubles, and then those that are semi-doubles; and among the doubles or semidoubles, those whose proper days first occurred are to be kept first.

8. Coll. or Collect, signifies the oration or prayer. Upon all doubles one collect, secret or post-communion, only, is said; except they fall on a Sunday, or within the same octave, or upon some vigil, or in the time of Lent or Advent, or except it occurs with some simple; in all such cases, two collects, &c., are said; one of the double, the other of the Sunday, octave, &c.

Upon Sundays, and all semidoubles, are said three collects, secrets or post-communions; excepting Sundays which occur within an octave, on which are said two collects, &c., one of the Sunday, the other of the octave.

The second and third collects, secrets, and post-communions, to be said on Sundays and semidoubles in the different seasons of the year, are specified in their proper places.

Upon semidoubles occurring within octaves, or on vigils, &c., the second collect, secret, and post-communion, are a commemoration of the octave or vigil; and the third of the B. V. M., but within the octaves of the Blessed Virgin, the third is of the Holy Ghost.

On semidoubles in Advent, the second collect, secret, and post-communion, are the collect, &c., of the foregoing Sunday; the third of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

Upon simples and ferias three collects, &c., are said; but if the priest please he may say five or seven, to be taken out of the divers prayers in the common.

9. When the bishop of a diocess appoints a collect to be said at mass, it is to be placed after the collects of the day, and cannot be substituted for the collect which is marked ad lib. This prayer prescribed by the bishop, is said at all masses, except that of the first class, and convertual and high mass of second class; at low mass of 2 cl. it may be said or omitted. It is omitted also on Christmas eve, vigil of Pentecost, Palm Sunday, Holy Thursday, and Holy Saturday.

10. Upon week days which have no proper office, nor any saint's day occurring thereon, the mass is of the foregoing Sundays.

11. Upon days within octaves, when no proper mass is assigned, the mass is said as on the feast, with three collects, &c. N. B.—The days within octaves are kept as semidoubles only.

12. The collect of the B. V. M., within octaves on vigils and on semidoubles within paschal time, is found in the votive mass of the Blessed Virgin Mary, from Advent to Christmas the collect of the B. V. M. is read in the mass of first Sunday of Advent, from Christmas to Candlemas the collect of the Blessed Virgin, as in the mass of the Circumcision.

13. The collects for Church and Pope are seen in the mass of the first Sunday of Advent, one of them is only recited at the choice of the priest, generally they are said in turn, when mentioned in the Directory. The collect of the Pope is said on the anniversary days of his creation and coronation; the creation here signifies his election to the sovereign Pontificate.

14. On the anniversary day of the consecration of the bishop, the collect for his installation is said at mass by the clergy of the diocess. If the bishop be translated from another diocess, the collect is said on the anniversary of his translation, that is, the date of the pope's letter of translation. The collect of the bishop is the same as that of the pope, except that the names of the prelate and of the diocess are mentioned.

15. The words ad lib. signify that one is at liberty to recite any of the occasional collects or prayers, found towards the end of the missal.

16. The gospels assigned on Sundays are never omitted. Wherefore if a double be kept on a Sunday, at the end of mass is read the gospel of the Sunday, instead of that of St. John; and the same is observed when a double or semidouble is kept on any day in Lent, or on a vigil or ember-day.

17. The Gloria in excelsis is said at Mass, whenever the Te Deum has been said after Matins; except at Mass on Holy Thursday and Holy Saturday, when the Gloria is said though the Te Deum is omitted in the office. The Gloria is omitted in Masses for the dead, in votive Masses, even during the Paschal time or an octave, except in the Mass de B. Maria in Sabbato, or de Angelis, or when the votive Mass is said for an important object or some public affair of the Church, and without the purple vestments.

18. Low Masses votive or of requiem for the dead, cannot be celebrated on Sunday or on a double feast. They are also prohibited from the vigil of Christmas to the octave-day of the Epiphany inclusively, and on Ash-Wednesday; also, from Palm-Sunday to Low-Sunday inclusively; moreover, from the vigil of Pentecost to Trinity Sunday included, and during the octave of Corpus Christi.

19. High Masses of requiem for the dead, where the body is not present, are forbidden on double feasts; but where the body is present and unburied, they may be celebrated on Sundays (provided the parochial Mass be not omitted) and on doubles, even of the first class, which are not festivals of obligation. But these Masses, even when the body is present, are prohibited on the Nativity, Epiphany, and Ascension of our Lord, Easter-day, Pentecost, Corpus Christi, Assumption of the B. V. Mary, All-Saints, and the three days before Easter; also, on the feast of the principal patron, that of the titular saint, and such festivals as are celebrated with much solemnity.

20. The offices of the Sacred Passion, which are marked for the different Fridays of Lent, are ad libitum: that is, they may be recited by those who wish, but there is no obligation to do so. The same is to be said of the office of the M. Blessed Sacrament on Thursdays, and that of the Conception of the B. V. Mary on Saturday, during the year. But if any one of these offices be omitted, the office occurring on the day according to the rubrics, should be recited.

21. In the office of the B. V. Mary and during the octave, the hymns conclude with the strophe, Jesu tibi sit gloria, Qui natus es, &c.; and in the Respons. at Prime, is said Qui natus es, &c., unless otherwise marked. Also, from the first vespers of Christmas to the first vespers of Epiphany, on the feast of the Holy Name of Jesus, and during the octave of Corpus Christi. The same is observed in the office of the Blessed Sacrament on Thursdays, and that of the B. V. Mary on Saturdays, from Complin of the preceding day, (if even a commemoration of these offices be made) until None inclusively.

NOTICE OF THE
VERY REV. GABRIEL RICHARD,

PASTOR OF ST. ANN'S CHURCH, DETROIT.*

Among the distinguished names that adorn the annals of Catholicity in the United States of America, is that of the Very Rev. Gabriel Richard, pastor of St. Ann's church at Detroit, Michigan. He was born at Saintes, in France, on the 15th of October, 1764, of highly respectable parents. His mother, it is said, was a kinswoman of the illustrious Bossuet. Having finished his classical education and feeling himself called to the ecclesiastical state, he entered the seminary of Angers, where he prosecuted his theological studies. He subsequently repaired to Issy, near Paris, in order to qualify himself for admission into the society of St. Sulpitius, a congregation of secular priests devoted to the education of young men for the sanctuary. At the time of his elevation to the priesthood in 1791, his native country was violently agitated by the revolutionary spirit, which was daily increasing in madness, and threatening the destruction of the established order both in Church and State. Owing to this unsettled state of things in France, the Abbé Emery, superior-general of the Sulpitians, had determined, with the approbation of the Rt. Rev. Dr. Carroll, bishop of Baltimore, to send some members of his society to the United States, for the purpose of conducting an ecclesiastical seminary, and in accordance with this arrangement several priests of that congregation came to Baltimore in 1791, who were followed in successive years by other members of the same society. Among them was the Rev. Mr. Richard, who arrived on the 24th of June, 1792, in company with Rev. Messrs. Cequard, Matignon and Marechal, whose names are all entitled to honorable mention in the history of the church in this country.

As St. Mary's seminary in Baltimore was not yet in such efficient operation as to require a numerous corps of professors, Mr. Richard and other gentlemen of St. Sulpice willingly acceded to the request of bishop Carroll, to aid in supplying the wants of the Catholic population scattered throughout his extensive diocess, reaching at that time from Maine to Tennessee, and from the Mississippi to the Atlantic ocean. With this view he accepted the pastoral charge of the Catholics in Illinois, that is, at Prairie du Rocher, Kaskaskia, and in the neighboring country. The Catholic population of this district consisted chiefly of Canadian French. In a letter to bishop Carroll, dated January 24, 1796, he draws rather an unfavorable picture of the state of religion in that district. There was a church at Kaskaskia with a congregation of about eight hundred souls, and another at Prairie du Rocher. Of the former place he speaks thus: "The people of this post are the worst in all Illinois. There is no religion among them, scarcely any one attending mass, even on Sundays. Intemperance, debauchery and idleness reign supreme." He was much better pleased with the congregation at Prairie du Rocher. "I am tolerably well satisfied with my little village of Prairie du Rocher, though grave scandals are occasionally witnessed here. My chief consolation is derived from five or six English families, who live ten or fifteen miles from this. They are surrounded by others who are Protestants, but who would be easily led into the church, if I could speak English with greater facility."

The following year Mr. Richard was appointed to visit, besides the above-mentioned places, the congregation of Cahokias, which numbered about three hundred souls, and possessed a handsome church erected by Rev. Mr. Levadoux, his predecessor. These missions had been established more than a hundred years previously by the Jesuits, who were afterwards aided by priests from the seminary of Foreign Missions, at Paris: but the supply of missionaries, especially after the recall of the Jesuit fathers, was altogether insufficient for the wants of the Catholic population, who gradually fell into a state of lamentable indifference on the subject of religion. Mr. Richard applied himself in this distant and neglected field, with all the zeal and prudence which characterise the true missionary, and he had the happiness of seeing his active efforts crowned with success. The important services which he rendered to religion, inspired the hope that he would be equally successful in a more responsible situation at Detroit, where the wants of the people loudly called for additional aid. He was therefore invited by bishop Carroll to be the assistant of Rev. Mr. Levadoux at this latter post. In leaving Illinois he felt some regret in being separated from his people at Prairie du Rocher, who were indeed "a little flock, but grateful and faithful." For a missionary, however, who like Mr. Richard labored only for the greater glory of God, it mattered little where he was stationed, as he was always prepared to follow the will of Heaven, which he recognized in the appointments of his ecclesiastical superiors.

Having arrived at Detroit in June, 1798, he entered at once upon his duties as assistant pastor of that place, and soon won the confidence of those under his spiritual charge. At that time the jurisdiction of the pastor of Detroit extended over various places now embraced within the limits of the States of Michigan and Wisconsin. "The French," says bishop Spalding,* "seem to have visited Michigan as early as the year 1610, and missionaries went thither occasionally soon afterwards; but no priest appears to have been stationed at Detroit before 1701." While the Jesuits established missionary posts among the Hurons in 1634, at Green Bay in 1665, at Sault St. Marie in 1668, at Point St. Ignatius, in 1671, at Prairie du Chien in 1675, the Franciscans labored more particularly at Detroit and in the vicinity. Mr. Dilhet, a Sulpitian, who was a missionary in that region, in 1798, informs us in a manuscript now in possession of the writer, that after having consulted the ancient records of the place, he could find no mention of any election of trustees (marguilliers) before the year 1744, when Father Bonaventure was pastor of Detroit. According to the popular tradition however, other Franciscan priests had preceded him in the holy ministry. He was succeeded by the Rev. Simplicius Rocque, who administered the affairs of the parish with much zeal and wisdom, and corrected many abuses which had prevailed among the people, such as selling liquor to the Indians at the risk of intoxicating them, the insubordination of trustees, &c. The church being too small for his congregation, he erected another of much larger dimensions. Father Rocque, whose many virtues had won for him the profound veneration of his people, was followed in the parochial office by Rev. Mr. Payet, a clergyman of high character, who served the mission from 1780 to 1787, when he was recalled by the bishop of Quebec, who appointed him his secretary. After the departure of Mr. Payet, the parish was confided to the care of Rev. Messrs. Hubert and Frichette, the former of whom was subsequently elevated to the episcopal chair of Quebec, and the latter remained in charge of the church at Detroit until the year 1796, when the Territory of Michigan having been evacuated by the British, came into the possession of the United States.* From this period, the bishop of Baltimore supplied the missionary stations of Michigan, and appointed the Rev. Mr. Levadoux, a Sulpitian, pastor of Detroit, with the powers of Vicar-general, which he had previously exercised for several years in Illinois. This parochial district, as we have previously observed, embraced a vast extent of country: but the chief points of attention for Mr. Levadoux and his assistants, were Detroit, with its stations along the coast, Riviere aux Raisins, with its neighboring settlements, and Mackinaw. The entire Catholic population of these districts did not amount to more than five or six thousand souls. The Catholics of Detroit and the vicinity, consisting almost exclusively of Canadian French, Mr. Richard had but little opportunity of exercising himself in the English language, the study of which he had undertaken with great zeal, in order to increase his usefulness. The inhabitants of the city were mostly persons whose vernacular tongue was the English, but there were not more than a dozen among them who were Catholics.

About a year after his arrival in Michigan, Mr. Richard visited the Catholics on the island of Michilimackinac, about twenty miles from the former Michilimackinac, or Point St. Ignatius, where the Jesuit fathers had established a mission more than a hundred years before. At the latter place there were only three or four families, the church and residence of the clergy having been transferred to the island, which was a much more convenient locality for vessels to approach the land and unload their cargoes, and afforded a securer shelter against the fury of the storm. As Mr. Richard has left us, in a letter to bishop Carroll, a brief but interesting account of his missionary journey at this time, we shall present his own narrative with such corrections as are necessary to make it readable. "I left Detroit on the 20th of June, in a vessel belonging to the United States, and after a terrible squall at Saginaw bay, on Lake Huron, arrived at Mackinaw on the 29th of the same month. I met there a great many people: near a thousand men visit this place in the summer season, but most of them remain only a few weeks. It is a grand rendezvous for traders from Lake Michigan, the Mississippi, Lake Superior, and other points, and contains about fifty houses. I found there a large number of children, for more than thirty of whom I supplied the ceremonies of baptism. They were over seven years of age, and most of them illegitimate. It is very painful to see so many poor creatures left without instruction, several of them scarcely knowing how to make the sign of the cross. I am informed that there are many others in the same condition at different places, which the people call hivernemens (winter quarters,) viz: at St. Joseph's River, Wisconsin River, Prairie du Chien, Greenbay, St. Mary's Falls, at several rivers along Lake Superior, at Grand Portage, and at points still further to the north-west of Lake Superior, where the great north-west company of Montreal employ annually seventeen hundred men, almost all Canadians. Grand Portage, near the west end of Lake Superior, is on the American side, and, as I have been told, is a trading post like Mackinaw, where nearly a thousand men assemble in the summer time, and after a short stay disperse to their hivernemens.

"For two months after my arrival I taught the children the catechism every morning, and in the evening I recited prayers in the church, after which I gave a familiar explanation of various points of Christian doctrine. On these occasions a good number of persons, particularly visitors from abroad, were present in the church, which is only forty-five feet long and twenty-five wide. Being built of cedar, it will last many years yet, though it is very old. It is well furnished with vestments, altar linen, and missal, but wants a chalice and a pix.

"On the 3d of September I paid a visit to the Ottawas, who live on the east side of Lake Michigan, forty-five miles from Mackinaw. The late chief of the tribe, who died two years ago, had been baptized. But, among the thirteen hundred persons who are there, men, women and children, only one, so far as I could ascertain, has received baptism. I saw the place called La Mission, where Father Dujaunay formerly lived.* There remains only a large cross on the shore, which at this place is near a hundred feet high. It is five miles north of the Ottawa village. I inquired of the Indians in your name, whether they wished to have a priest among them, for their instruction, or at least that of their children, and they appeared to be much gratified that you and Mr. Levadoux should take an interest in their welfare: but Indian like, they requested to be allowed a few days for consultation among themselves, after which they would send me an answer. After having spent two days among them, I returned to Mackinaw on the 6th, and remained there until the 24th of September; but up to that time I received not a word of reply from them, although many came to the island at different times. The truth of the matter is, they are so much addicted to the use of ardent spirits, that they care very little about religion. I saw some of them drunk when I was at their village; and at the island some were to be seen every day intoxicated in the streets or on the shore. The trade there is principally in liquors, and as long as this state of things exists, there can be no prospect of making them christians. Though the traders acknowledge that it would be better for their own interest if the Indians had no rum, they persist in supplying them with it, through fear of losing their trade. God only knows how many evils flow from this traffic. It has been observed, that English rum has destroyed more Indians than ever did the Spanish sword. Several Indian chiefs have requested that the trade of liquor should be abolished by law."†

Mr. Richard found so much to be done at Mackinaw in the instruction of youth, and correcting the habits of those more advanced in years, that he was disposed to remain there during the winter, especially as he had been invited to do so by the inhabitants of the place. His services however were too much needed at Detroit to allow so long an absence: he therefore returned to that city in October, after having touched at St. Joseph's Island and St. Mary's Falls. Less than two years after, Mr. Levadoux having been recalled to France, Mr. Richard succeeded him in the pastorship of Detroit. One of the first objects of his attention was to repair and enlarge the church in Detroit, which was too small for the congregation. This he accomplished at an expense of about three thousand dollars, having almost entirely renewed the old building. There was a debt however, remaining upon the work, of seven hundred dollars. He adopted various means for the better regulation of his parish; but to reform existing abuses and promote a spirit of piety among his people, were the chief objects of his solicitude. He endeavored also, according to his opportunities, to consult the interests of the church at large. When he surveyed the extensive field that required cultivation in the West and North-west, including the new territory which had recently come under the jurisdiction of the chief pastor in the United States since the cession of Louisiana, he was sensibly impressed with the necessity of making some adequate provision for the urgent wants of religion. With this view he and Mr. Dilhet, who now resided in Detroit as his assistant, commenced an institution which they designed to be a nursery of young men for the sanctuary. In this school, which was opened in the autumn of 1804, the pupils were taught Latin, geography, ecclasiastical history, church music, and the practice of mental prayer.

The following year the city of Detroit was visited by a calamity which proved a sore trial especially to the Catholic population. On the 11th of June, while the town was filled with people who had gathered from various points for the exercises of the jubilee, it was totally destroyed by fire. "I was occupied with Mr. Richard," says Mr. Dilhet, "when a messenger came to inform us, that three houses had been already consumed, and there was no hope of saving the rest. I exhorted the faithful who were present to help each other, and immediately commenced the celebration of low mass, after which we had barely time to remove the vestments and furniture of the church with the effects of the adjoining presbytery, when both buildings were enveloped in the flames. In the course of three hours, from 9 A. M. till noon, nothing was to be seen of the city except a mass of burning coals, and chimney-tops stretching like pyramids into the air. Fortunately there was no wind during the conflagration, which allowed the flames and smoke to ascend to a prodigious height, giving the city the appearance of an immense funeral pile. It was the most majestic, and at the same time the most frightful spectacle I ever witnessed. The city contained at least one hundred and fifty houses, mostly frame, which caused the fire to spread with the utmost rapidity. The number of people in the town being unusually large, there was an ample force for removing the merchandize and furniture of the inhabitants, which were in a great measure saved. No personal injury was sustained during the fire."

In the course of the year 1805, Messrs. Richard and Dilhet were both ordered to France by their ecclesiastical superior, as the religious institutions of that country were now gradually reviving, and the society of St. Sulpice needed the services of its members. Mr. Richard having informed his congregation in the temporary chapel where they assembled, that he was about to be separated from them, a difficulty unexpectedly arose which prevented his departure. The trustees, who were a factious set of men, and who for a long time had shown a very rebellious spirit, availed themselves of a calumnious report to have a writ issued against him, which detained him at Detroit. "You may imagine," he writes to bishop Carroll, "how unpleasant this affair must be: nevertheless I feel very happy in having a share in the cross of our Saviour. This year I have experienced many contradictions; but at the same time I have obtained greater successes, if I am not deceived by my self-love. In general there are good dispositions, and I think that a priest of calm temper, with patience and time, would be very useful here. I hope then that you will do all you can to send another clergyman to Detroit as my successor. . . . As it will be very difficult to have a church built here without some assistance from abroad, I would suggest the raising of a subscription among the Catholics of Maryland, the amount of which to be appropriated to the erection of a church and an academy in Detroit, under the direction of the pastor, to prevent the constant and troublesome interference of some of the church-wardens."

The suggestion here made by Mr. Richard was founded in a wisdom which has since been embodied in the legislation of the church in this country. The serious evils growing out of the trustee-system are no novelties of the present day: fifty years ago it was a fruitful source of difficulties at Detroit, which, as we shall see, resulted in open schism, and at this very time we witness its lamentable consequences in other States. In the midst of his troubles Mr. Richard was not disheartened. If he had much to suffer, he had also much to console him. The greater portion of his flock sympathized with him in his trials, and his character was enhanced even in the eyes of those who did not belong to the church. In 1807 the governor of the territory and other Protestant gentlemen invited him to preach to them in the English language. "Although I was sensible of my incapacity," he writes to bishop Carroll, "as there was no English minister here of any denomination, I thought it might be of some utility to take possession of the ground." He accordingly held his English meeting every Sunday at noon in the council house, where he delivered instructions on the general principles of the Christian religion, the principles to be adopted in the investigation of truth, the causes of our errors, the spirituality and immortality of the soul, and the evidences of Christianity in general, intending at a later period to touch upon the distinctive doctrines of the church.

Mr. Richard's zeal for the welfare of his flock inspired him with the idea of establishing a printing press at Detroit, and publishing a newspaper. This project he undertook in 1809, and for a time he issued a periodical in French, entitled Essai du Michigan; but the great distances which separated the people of the territory, and the irregularity of the mails led to the discontinuance of his journal. His press, however, which was the first introduced into the North-western part of the United States, and was for several years the only printing apparatus in Michigan, did useful service under his direction. By his fearless advocacy of American principles and denunciations of the tyranny of England, he had made himself obnoxious to the British, who in the war of 1812 violently seized him and carried him a prisoner to Sandwich, (near Detroit) in Upper Canada. "Like his illustrious predecessor, St. Paul, he knew, and made all around him feel, that at least the 'word of God was not bound,' for he availed himself of every opportunity to preach the truths of salvation, and zealously used his influence over the savage allies of the enemy, to save American prisoners from torture. On his return to Detroit, the consequence of the devastating policy of the war was seen in an extreme dearth of food, bordering on famine, to which his people were reduced. His first attention was, therefore, imperiously demanded for the relief of their temporal wants. He purchased a large quantity of provisions, and distributed them gratuitously to all who were in need, and as long as the scarcity lasted, so long did his untiring charity continue to be the living providence of the destitute."*

It might be supposed that a pastor, so solicitous and so energetic in ministering to the wants of his people, would have no difficulty in gaining their unqualified respect and submission. With Mr. Richard, however, as with many other faithful priests, his unbending firmness in the performance of duty was the very cause of ill will and opposition on the part of some refractory members of his flock. In February, 1817, bishop Flaget, whose jurisdiction extended at that time over Michigan, issued a pastoral letter, in which he strongly denounced the course of the disaffected party, and interdicted their church.† The following year he made a journey to Detroit, (travelling the whole way on horseback,) in order to heal the schisms which divided the congregation. His efforts for bringing about a reconciliation were crowned with complete success. "The preliminaries having been satisfactorily adjusted, and the chiefs of the party having signed the pastoral of the bishop in the name of the people, he determined to render the ceremony of removing the interdict as public and solemn as possible. For this purpose he was conducted to their church in grand procession. The discharge of cannon announced the approaching ceremony. The music of the regimental band mingled with that of the chanters in the procession. Addresses were delivered in English and in French. An affecting public reconciliation took place between the schismatics and their venerable pastor, Mr. Richard, who shed tears of joy on the occasion. A collection of $500 was taken up on the spot, which the bishop considered a substantial omen of a permanent peace." On the same day he performed the ceremony of laying the corner-stone of the church of St. Ann, the building of which had been commenced by Mr. Richard in 1817. On this occasion the bishop announced to the people that the sacred edifice about to be erected, would become the cathedral of the twenty-fifth State in the Union. The anticipation of such an event led to the adoption of a more extensive plan for the church than had been originally contemplated. Its increased dimensions, however, 116 feet in length by 60 in width, added considerably to the proposed expenditure, and for some time the zealous pastor was much embarrassed by the pecuniary obligations which he had incurred.

As the multiplication of diocesses in the West was now under consideration, which inspired the hope that additional laborers would be sent into the harvest, Mr. Richard undertook a journey through the vast district under his charge, in order to ascertain the exact number of Catholics among the white and Indian population of the North-west, that the bishops might know the different posts which required a resident clergyman. Having left Detroit in July, 1821, he spent three weeks at Mackinaw in missionary duty, after which he embarked upon Lake Michigan in a large batteau, encamping every night with his party on land. They were occupied an entire month in coasting the eastern shore of the lake. On arriving at Marquette river, they were detained several days by contrary winds, which afforded Mr. Richard an opportunity of inquiring about the burial-place of Father Marquette, of the Society of Jesus, so distinguished for having been the first European to explore the river Mississippi, and discover the mouth of the Missouri, in 1674, but still more illustrious for having founded the missionary stations of Mackinaw and Arbre Croche. "The Indians," says Mr. Richard, "conducted me to the spot where the river emptied in 1675, when Father Marquette died there on the 9th of May.* Its mouth is now, at least three thousand feet more to the south than at that time, between two capes about sixty feet high, which appear to have been separated by the joint action of the winds and waves. The spot which they pointed out to me is about two hundred and forty feet from the shore of the lake, south of the former bed of the river, but two thousand eight hundred feet north of its present course. It is a well ascertained fact recorded by travellers and even Protestant writers, and confirmed by popular tradition, that a few weeks after the death of Father Marquette the river changed its course as if through respect for the precious remains of that saintly man. I planted a cross there, in the presence of eight Ottowa Indians and two white men, placing it in the spot where, according to the statement of the Indians, a former one had stood, but which had been carried away by the wind three years before. With my penknife I engraved on it the following inscription :

FR. J. MARQUET,
DIED HERE 9 MAY, 1675.

"On Sunday I offered up the holy sacrifice under a tent, near the present mouth of the river, and in the afternoon we went in procession, fifty in number, English, Canadians and Indians, marching two by two along the sandy shore of the lake and singing the Litany of the Blessed Virgin to the grave of Father Marquette. You may conceive that it was easy to be eloquent in that desert place, and over the grave of a missionary who is said, in the tradition of the country, to have wrought miracles. After singing the Libera we returned to our chapel and camp, chanting the Litany of the Saints. During the night, the wind which had been adverse, became favorable, which we attributed to the aid of the good missionary whose grave had been the object of our veneration."

Mr. Richard had been invited by the Potowatomi Indians residing at St. Joseph's river, to assist at the conclusion of the treaty between them and the governor of the North-west, which was to take place at Chicago : but the unavoidable delays on his journey prevented him from arriving in time and rendering them any service on that occasion. He had hoped to assist them in their petition to have a Catholic missionary stationed among them : the result was that a Baptist preacher was located there, though the Indians would not have recourse to his ministry. As some time would elapse before an opportunity would present itself of returning to Detroit by the lakes, Mr. Richard travelled south to St. Louis, and thence proceeded by land to Bardstown and Cincinnati. At the latter place he was present at the ordination of Rev. Vincent Badin, who a few days after accompanied him to Detroit as an assistant missionary.*

Cincinnati had now become an Episcopal See, and was occupied by the Rt. Rev. Edward Fenwick, whose jurisdiction embraced the State of Ohio, and Michigan and North-west territories. There were about five wooden churches in Ohio, with five or six priests and a Catholic population of eight thousand souls, besides some Indians on Seneca river. From an interesting letter of Mr. Richard to Archbishop Marechal of Baltimore, dated Dec. 22, 1822, we learn that there were only five churches or chapels in Michigan and the North-west, with a Catholic population of about 6,000 whites, and a certain number among the different savage tribes of that region. For the service of this immense district of country, Mr. Richard had no assistance but that of the Rev. Mr. Badin, above mentioned.

In the hope of being useful to his fellow-citizens and liquidating a portion of the debts incurred in building his church at Detroit, Mr. Richard consented to be a candidate for congress. The people of the territory elected him to that honorable position in 1823. "His demeanor in the house commanded much respect. He spoke little, but that little wisely, and did much for his constituents, and for the Union." The appropriation for roads made at his instance and other acts, attest the efficiency of his service in the national legislature. While in the capital of the United States, he exerted himself in behalf of the Indian tribes who belonged to his flock, and who had made him the bearer of a petition to the President. The following from the Ottawas will show the object of their request:

"Father—I now wish that you hear me and all your children in this distant country. They stretch out their arms to you and press your hand. We, the heads of families and others, residing at Arbre Croche, earnestly pray and supplicate you, respected Father, to allow a black gown to live amongst us, a preacher like those who instructed the Indians in the vicinity of Montreal. Father, have charity for your children; listen to them. We desire to be instructed in the same religious principles that our ancestors had, when the mission of St. Ignatius (at Arbre Croche) still existed, in 1765. We come to you, the great chief of the United States, and entreat you to assist us in building a house of prayer for the minister of the Great Spirit whom you will be pleased to send us, for the instruction of us and our children. We will give him land to cultivate, and will endeavor to please him and follow his advice. We shall then be happy, if you will send us a man of God, such as our fathers had. It is the wish of your devoted children. They hope that you will hear them. They ask nothing more at present. All your children, Father, offer you the hand, and press yours with all the affection of their heart.

"Signed Magati Pinsingo," or
"Dec. 1823. Black Bird.

This solicitude of the Indians, after having been deprived of religious aid for so long a time, to have Catholic missionaries among them, is a complete refutation of the charge against the Jesuits, that they had produced no lasting impressions upon the minds of the untutored savages among whom they had formerly labored. The Potowatomies and Ottowas made repeated applications to Mr. Richard for a priest to reside among them, and the following letter which he addressed to the latter in 1826, will show the zeal both of the pastor and his interesting flock.

"To the different chiefs, Lapapouas, Black Bird, and others, and all the Ottawas of Arbre Croche, health and blessing from the Great Spirit.

"My very dear children,

"I received with great pleasure the different letters which you sent me last autumn. I have read them over several times, and sent copies of them to France where they will be read with interest, and together with mine will assist in obtaining funds for establishing a school at Arbre Croche. By the law of the United States, your father the President cannot found a school among the Indians. This must be done by some zealous and charitable persons, and when the good work will have been commenced, the President, upon the recommendation of the governor, may afford some aid. For this reason, I have been obliged to apply to your old father, the Frenchman, to obtain a black gown of his nation, and the means to build school-houses at Arbre Croche and other places where the Jesuits formerly were. Have patience, my children. The Master of life sees your good will. He permitted your forefathers to be deprived of missionaries, because they did not profit sufficiently by their instructions. Now that you desire to learn how to serve the Great Spirit, he will have compassion on you as his children, for whose sake he sent into the world his son Jesus, who died for you on a cross. Have patience, then, my children. * * * Be sober. Pray the Master of life, morning and night to bless you, to make you good. Bring up your little children in the fear and respect of the Master of life, and inspire them with confidence in his providence. I send you the black gown, (Mr. Badin,) who blessed your chapel last year, that he may break to you the bread of the word of the Great Spirit, that he may pray with you and for you, baptize your children, bless your marriages, and forgive the sins you have committed, if you repent of them and are resolved no more to do the same.

"May the grace and peace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all.

Your affectionate father,

GABRIEL RICHARD."

Though Mr. Richard was a candidate a second time for Congress, he failed in his election in consequence of the mere apathy which prevented some of his people from attending the polls. Six more votes would have given him a majority over his competitor, and would have afforded him additional resources for liquidating a portion of his debts. The Rev.

Mr. Gallitzin, a distinguished missionary of that period, remarked to him: "When I heard of your election to Congress, I disapproved of it at once: but I have the honor to inform you, that if you can manage to have a seat in Congress all your life, you will do more good for religion with your salary, than many other missionaries with all their zeal and preaching."

In the course of the year 1824, the laborious pastor of Detroit, who was also Vicar-general of the bishop of Cincinnati for Michigan and Northwest territories, had the consolation to receive the aid of two excellent clergymen from Europe, Messrs. Dejean and Bellamy, the former of whom became the apostle of the Ottawa tribe of Indians. With the increase of priests, an effort was made to extend the blessings of religion to the most distant points. In 1826, Mr. Vincent Badin visited the missions in the northern part of the territory, and went as far as Prairie du Chien at the mouth of the Wisconsin river. This had been one of the stations of the Jesuit fathers; but since the removal of those indefatigable and successful missionaries, about the year 1768, it had heard no consoling voice of the minister of God, except that of the Rev. father Mary Joseph Dunand, of the Order of Trappists, in 1818. During his stay at this place, Mr. Badin erected a church, which was much needed, as the Catholic population was not less than one hundred and twenty families. The Catholics of Michigan enjoyed a still greater happiness, on the occasion of the visit which they received from bishop Fenwick. This laborious and amiable prelate had long desired to inspect this distant portion of his charge, and he was amply repaid for the toils and privations which he underwent in serving them, by the contemplation of the progress of religion. The triumphs of our holy faith among the savage tribes afforded him peculiar joy. To see the purest morality and the most fervent piety reigning among those Indians, who but a few years before had been merged in the most degrading ignorance and superstition, and addicted to all the vices consequent upon a beastly intemperance, could not but rejoice the heart of the chief pastor, and cause him to pour forth his thanksgivings to God for this abundant blessing vouchsafed to the labors of the spiritual husbandmen. The bishop was heard to say that the happiest days of his life were those passed among the Potowotamie and Ottawa Indians. When Mr. Richard first visited the latter tribe at Arbre Croche, in 1799, he found only one who had been baptized: in 1829, the number of fervent christians among them exceeded seven hundred. Among the Potowatomies, Messrs. Stephen Badin and others labored with considerable success. Nothing can be more affecting or more edifying than the interview which took place in July, 1830, between the chief of that tribe, Pokegan, and Mr. Richard to whom he applied for a resident missionary. After supplicating the good priest in the most earnest manner to send a clergyman to the Potowatomies, he observed to him that they prayed every morning and night, men, women and children, and also fasted two days before Sunday, according to the tradition of their ancestors. "These," said he, "are the prayers we have learned: see if I know them properly." Then falling on his knees, and making the sign of the cross with great respect, he recited the Our Father, Hail Mary, the Creed, and the Commandments of God, without the slightest mistake. Mr. Richard was deeply moved by this affecting address, which he answered by an expression of sentiments worthy of the pastor animated by a tender charity and compassion for his spiritual children. By the means which had been placed in his hands by that admirable "Association of the propagation of the Faith," he was enabled to provide more effectually for the wants of the district under his charge, and he had the happiness to see churches erected in different places, and schools established at Green Bay, Arbre Croche and St. Joseph's. Instead of one priest to assist him in his labors, he now beheld eight devoting themselves with zeal to the functions of the holy ministry.

While he was thus exerting himself for the glory of God and the salvation of souls, the country was visited by that scourge of nations, the Asiatic cholera. During its ravages at Detroit, in 1832, he was continually occupied in administering to the comfort of the sick and the destitute. Though afflicted himself with symptoms of the prevailing epidemic for nearly three months, and most of the time greatly debilitated, he never ceased to discharge the duties of his office with his accustomed zeal, until he was at length completely overpowered by disease. When, a few days after the attack, he was informed that he could not survive it, he expressed his willingness to die, and after receiving the last sacraments, he calmly expired, with those words of holy Simeon on his lips: "Now, O Lord, dost thou dismiss thy servant, according to thy word, in peace." His death took place on the 13th of September, and his remains were conveyed to the grave, followed by a numerous concourse of persons of all classes and denominations, who evinced the deepest sorrow at this afflicting bereavement.

Energy and decision were prominent traits in the character of this excellent man. He was remarkable for his unremitting application to the duties of his ministry and his untiring zeal for the welfare of the church. "In the functions of preaching, catechizing and hearing confessions," says Mr. Badin, "he was constant and indefatigable. I never knew a priest more laborious, more mortified, more patient, more learned, or more solidly pious in all this country." But a more honorable testimony in his favor is that of bishop Fenwick himself, who speaks of him as

"the oldest, the most respectable and the most meritorious missionary in Michigan." With this distinguished appreciation of Mr. Richard's worth as an apostle, he had no hesitation to recommend him, some years before his death, as a priest eminently qualified by his zeal, learning and piety to be appointed the first bishop of Detroit.*

As a citizen of the United States, Mr. Richard rendered important services to his adopted country, and his example will always shine prominently among the many instances which have signalized the true and fervent devotion of Catholic clergymen of foreign birth to the honor and welfare of the United States. "Though a European by birth," says the Detroit Courier, "he was an American in feeling, always evincing a firm attachment to American institutions and republican principles. The influence which he exerted and the part which he took in the late war (1812) evinced in an eminent degree the extent of his patriotism and the value he placed upon American liberty."

* This he probably would have been, if he had not become involved in a disagreeable suit for libel, which had been brought against him by an unfortunate priest, whom he had been required by the bishop to excommunicate. It may not perhaps be useless to state, that on this occasion Mr. Richard obtained the legal advice of the most eminent jurists in the country, who all concurred in the opinion, that a sentence of excommunication pronounced by an ecclesiastic, cannot be construed as a libel, since it does not charge the guilty person with an offence as against municipal law, but merely as against the law and discipline of the church. This was the opinion of Judge Woodward of Michigan, of Daniel Webster, Henry Clay, Edward Livingston, John W. Taylor, Peter Duponceau, Horace Binney, John Scott and William Sampson. The last mentioned gentleman founded his decision upon the additional ground, that a sentence of excommunication could not be made actionable without violating the most fundamental principle of the Constitution, "which provides against all religious intolerance and leaves every religious communion free to exercise the natural right of preserving its own purity by its own appropriate modes of government and discipline."

LITERARY INSTITUTIONS FOR YOUNG MEN.

GEORGETOWN COLLEGE, D. C.

Some changes were lately effected in the internal arrangement of the College, by which a large number of boarders can be accommodated, and a separation has been made of the very young students from the seniors. The necessity and advantages of such an arrangement must be evident to every person who has the least experience in the education of youth. Distinct dormitories, play-ground and study hall have been assigned to the younger boys, and persons appointed to superintend their studies, who will give them such attention as their tender age requires.

The course of Philosophy will be in future extended to two years for such as may wish to pursue the study of Ethics, together with the fundamental principles of civil, political, and international law. The higher branches of Mathematics and Natural Philosophy, will also be continued, together with practical instruction in Astronomy in the College Observatory, thus affording the lover of this delightful science advantages not to be found in many institutions of the country.

WASHINGTON SEMINARY,

Washington City, D. C.

This College, formerly known, and still favorably remembered under the above name, was re-opened for the youth of Washington City and its vicinity on the 2d day of October, 1848; it is conducted by the Fathers of the Society of Jesus.

The course of studies is essentially the same as that now followed in Georgetown College, D. C., embracing the Latin, Greek, English, French and Spanish languages; Poetry, Rhetoric, History, Mythology, Geography, Book-keeping, Arithmetic, Mathematics, Moral and Natural Philosophy. Besides the classical there is in the College a Preparatory Department, the object of which is to qualify the pupils for the higher studies; no one is admitted to the Preparatory class who cannot read and write; there is however a class of Caligraphy for the younger students. During the whole course of studies, great attention is paid to composition, particularly English.

The College is intended for day scholars only.

When a scholar presents himself for admission, he is examined by the Prefect of Studies, and placed in that class for which his prior attainments may have fitted him.

There are two examinations in the year—the first in February, and the second in July. At any time during the year, and particularly at the first examination, if any one be found capable of passing to a higher class, he will be promoted, and such promotion will be equivalent to the honors of the class left.

Quarterly reports are sent to the parents or guardians, stating every thing that may interest them concerning their children or wards.

We call the attention of the Catholics of the Western States to the advantages that are now offered to settlers in the new Territories; the valley of the Kansas river contains in its bosom some desirable localities which can be secured by pre-emption. Squatters are now flocking in from all parts of the Union: the earliest settlements will undoubtedly be made the richest valleys. CISTERCIAN MONASTERY OF OUR BLESSED LADY OF LA TRAPPE,

New Melleray, near Dubuque, Iowa.

This community is a filiation from the Abbey of Mount Melleray, county of Waterford, Ireland.

In the early Spring of 1849, two members of the above Monastery landed at New York, and after much toil and useless efforts to find a place suited to the establishment of a new Cistercian Monastery, they directed their footsteps to the "Far West." Kindly received, and generously encouraged by the Rt. Rev. M. Loras, Bishop of Dubuque, from whom they received a liberal donation of some valuable prairie and wood lands, they secured in his diocess about 1,400 acres of land, the most rich and fertile, and which required nothing but the skilful hand of industry to render it productive of all that could be considered necessary to supply the limited wants of Cistercian Trappists.

Not content with laboring assiduously for their own sanctification, they also extend the sphere of their active services to the neighboring people around, according to the express wishes of the Right Rev. Bishop of the Diocess. Five years ago, their secular congregation numbered five or six Catholics, and since that time the Catholic population has increased to about two hundred. Three of their priests attend on Saturdays and Sunday mornings to hear confessions, &c. At present the average number of communicants every Sunday is about sixty, and on some of the principal festivals they number one hundred and fifteen. They have already received some converts to our holy faith, and from the crowds that attend their preaching on Sundays, still brighter prospects are entertained in the early future. There are at present forty-seven members in the community, some of whom devote both their time and their talents to the education of youth. Amongst the members of this community there are thirteen choir members, of whom seven are priests, thirty-two professed lay-brothers and two novices.

Very Rev. Clement Smyth, Prior.
Rev. James O'Gorman, Sub-Prior.
" Bernard McCaffery, Master of Novices.
" Palladius Cosgrove, Sacristan.

BROTHERS OF CHRISTIAN INSTRUCTION.

These Brothers have a Novitiate at New Paradise Grove, four miles from Dubuque and near Mount St. Bernard's Seminary, where their chaplain resides. There are fourteen brothers in the community. Brother David, Director.

ST. JOSEPH'S FEMALE ACADEMY,

CONDUCTED BY THE SISTERS OF CHARITY OF THE BLESSED VIRGIN,

About eight miles from Dubuque.

The situation of this Academy is beautiful and picturesque ; the air is pure and healthy, calculated to improve the constitution and to impart new vigor to the mind. The course of education comprises Orthography, Reading, Writing, Arithmetic, Grammar, Composition, Elocution, Geography, use of the Globes, Algebra, French, German and Spanish Languages, History, sacred and profane, Chronology, Mythology, Logic, Botany, Chemistry, Astronomy, Music, Piano Forte, Melodeon, Guitar, &c.; Drawing, plain and ornamental Needle Work, &c.

The Sisters embody in their educational course, all that may be found useful in modern improvement, and which may tend to refine the taste and to develope the natural resources of the mind. They endeavor to combine morality and literature so that each may happily conspire to the progress and advancement of the other. They study to unite with the ordinary course of education the more refined and the more necessary accomplishments of the mind, being fully persuaded that mere scientific education becomes mere pedantry, unless accompanied with a graceful address, with that ease and elegance of manners which always bespeaks a highly cultivated mind, and which are found, next to virtue, the most noble endowment of the mind—the most precious ornament of the female character.

Young ladies of every religious denomination are admitted into this Academy, where special care is taken that no influence ever blasts their religious principles ; but as order is necessary for the good government of every institution, they will be required to observe the ordinary regulations of external worship.

Those forms and ceremonies so much prized and practised in polite society, are strictly inculcated ; yet care is taken to prevent these necessary ceremonies from degenerating into extravagant compliments which have neither meaning in their form, nor sincerity in their pretensions.

The system of education pursued in this Academy is calculated to remove that painful disgust generally experienced by young minds in the pursuit of their studies and render those studies rather a recreation to their pupils than a disagreeable task or tiresome duty.

No exertions are spared by the Sisters to attract the minds of their pupils to such sources of information as shall prove in after life, an invaluable treasure to society, and an undrainable source of pure delight to themselves.

Lefevre, Bishop Administrator of the Diocess of Detroit, is situated in the most beautiful and healthy part of the city, on the opposite side of the Catholic church.

This institute combines every advantage that can be derived from a literary institute for young ladies in America. Having been engaged for many years past in the instruction of youth, these ladies have constantly justified the confidence of parents who entrusted their children to their care.

The plan of education, together with the benefit of christian instruction, unites every advantage that can be derived from a punctual and conscientious care bestowed on the pupils in every branch of science suitable to their sex; and from the uninterrupted attention which is given to form the manners and principles of the young ladies, and to train them up in habits of order, neatness and industry. The diet is good, wholesome and abundant; spacious grounds afford the pupils the facility of pleasant walks and useful bodily exercises. Their health is the object of constant solicitude. In sickness they are affectionately attended to, and never are they left a moment beyond the reach of inspection. The number of sisters in the house is 12, three of whom are novices. SOCIETY OF THE HOLY CROSS,

At Notre-Dame-du-Lac, St. Joseph's County.

This institution consists of three distinct branches, having the same end, nearly the same rules, the same vows of obedience, chastity and poverty, the same interests, and the same government, viz :

1st. The "Priests of the Holy Cross," consecrated to the Sacred Heart of Jesus. Their constitutions are similar to those of St. Ignatius of Loyola; they devote themselves to missions, and to education, in which they are assisted by the Brothers: 14 professed and 6 novices.

2d. The Brothers—similar to the Christian Brothers—are consecrated to the Most Holy Heart of St. Joseph, and chiefly instituted to teach the poor and the destitute; they take charge of orphan asylums and teach useful trades; they also discharge the manual offices connected with a college and a farm. The most suitable age for admission is from fifteen to thirty-five, and the qualifications are chiefly a blameless character, a sound constitution, a true piety, pure morals, a firm and conciliating temper, and a great desire of personal sanctification in the line of obedience. When the Brothers are sent out they must be two at least, and they receive a salary of $100 per annum, unless they take the school on their own account. Their novitiate is of one year, and they cannot make their perpetual vows before they are 25 years of age. Number of professed, 25; novices, 12; postulants, 9; number of boys in the manual labor school, 30.

3d. The "Sisters of the Holy Cross," consecrated to the most Immaculate Heart of Mary, like the Sisters of Charity, are devoted to the education of youth, to the service of orphan asylums and hospitals; they also discharge, for the colleges of the institute, the various functions of infirmarians, sacristans, &c. Their Novitiate is at Bertrand, Berrien county, Michigan, five miles from Notre-Dame. They have also there an academy and a female orphan asylum, nearly on the same plan as that of the Brothers. Number of professed sisters, 23; novices, 12; postulants, 18. To be admitted either into the male or female orphan asylum, children must be at least twelve years old, and they are bound to remain until they are 21 years of age. They must pay $40 as security, and this sum is returned in clothes at the expiration of their time.

The following branches are dependent on the house at Notre-Dame-du-Lac, viz:

Holy Angel's Academy, Mishawaka, Indiana, recently opened for young ladies. Terms, $100 per annum. Sister Mary of St. Francis, Directress.

St. John's School, Cincinnati. 400 children. Br. Bernard, Director.

ST. FRANCIS XAVIER'S CONVENT OF SISTERS OF MERCY,

Providence, R. I.

Sister MARY FRANCIS XAVIER WARDE, Mother Superior.

The Sisters of this order devote themselves to instruction, especially the religious instruction of both children and adults, to the service of the poor and sick both at their own houses and in hospitals, and to the protection of young women of good character. The Mother-house and novitiate are in Broad-street, Providence. There are in this community 17 professed choir-sisters, 14 novices, 4 postulants, and 17 lay-sisters.

Young Ladies' Academy—Conducted by the Sisters of Mercy. This academy is attached to the Mother-house, where all the branches essential to a refined education are taught.

St. Mary's R. C. Orphan Asylum.—The sisters have opened in a house connected with their convent, the above institution, in which there are fifty-three orphans. Much good has already been accomplished by this institution.

Cathedral Female Free School.—The Sisters of Mercy have charge of this school, in which they teach daily 300 children.

St. Patrick's Female Free School.—The Sisters of Mercy are in charge of this school, and teach in it daily 200 children.

St. Joseph's Female Free School.—The Sisters of Mercy are in charge of this school; though only in its commencement it is very numerously attended.

ST. CATHARINE'S CONVENT,

The Sisters in New Haven have also the charge of St. Patrick's Female Free School, where they teach 300 little children.

ST. MARY'S CONVENT,

ST. MARIA'S OF THE ISLE,

Newport.

BOYS' SCHOOLS.

Cathedral Free School for Boys. This school is taught by an accomplished teacher, aided by an assistant, and is under the supervision of a clergyman of the Cathedral. There are 300 boys in daily attendance.

St. Patrick's Free School for Boys. There are in daily attendance in this school, about 200 boys. In that of St. Joseph's there are about 150.

There are male and female free schools in Hartford, Norwich, New London, New Haven, Bridgeport, Birmingham, Newport and Pautucket, and all in a most flourishing condition, and fully equal to the best State schools. It is to be hoped, that in a little time every congregation in the diocess will have its school. If we wish to save the rising generation to religion and God, we will, even at a sacrifice, give them a thorough Catholic education; nothing short of this will protect youth against error, and save them to religion.

Sunday schools exist in all the congregations in the diocess, and are fairly attended.

As the majority of our children are daily occupied in the factories, the pastors will endeavor to have them attend the Sunday school.

Religious Societies. The Purgatorian Society organized at the Cathedral, is in a most flourishing condition. Its object is continuous prayer for the souls of the faithful departed. It is eminently religious, and gives much edification. The holy father has most kindly extended the indulgence and privileges of the parent society in Dublin to the society in this diocess.

The Scapular and Rosary societies are organized in almost all the congregations of the diocess, and are in a prosperous condition.

ST. MARY'S COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE,

Columbia, S. C.

This institution, undertaken with the sanction of the Right Rev. Bishop, and already so favorably known to the public, is situated in the most healthy town of the Southern States, and affords young men all the advantages of a sound and moral education. Respectable children of every denomination are received, without distinction, and the strictest attention paid to their moral and physical well-being ; their Professors being not only the directors of their studies, but also the companions of their recreations.

Accessions have been made to the Mathematical and Scientific Departments, which greatly facilitates these studies. There are at present over one hundred pupils, from seven years upwards in the College ; and ample provisions have been made for the accommodation of as many others. Thoroughly domestic in character,—all publications or tendencies, hostile to our Southern interests, are rigidly excluded.

The various departments of a Classical, Scientific and English Education are already filled by able and competent Professors. Students will be received at all times ; on entering, each will be examined and placed in the classes for which his previous attainments qualify him.

The educational system is the same which is pursued in many of the leading colleges in Europe and in the United States. It embraces three courses :

1. The preparatory, lasting usually one year, and comprising Reading, Penmanship, Arithmetic, Grammar, Modern Geography, and the elements of such branches as are afterwards to be pursued.

2. The Commercial, which lasts three years, and comprises the elements of Philosophy, of Geometry and Algebra, Book-keeping, History, the English and French languages.

3. The Classical, which lasts six years, and comprises Literature,

Ancient Geography, the higher branches of Mathematics, Astronomy, Natural Philosophy, Chemistry, Logic, Metaphysics, Ethics, the Greek and Latin languages.

The Scholastic year commences on the third Monday in September, and ends on the third Monday of July, by a public examination and exhibition.

Having recently been incorporated as a College, by statute of December, 1853, we are authorised to confer Degrees, and do such other acts as a College rightfully may do in its corporate capacity.

The liberal patronage extended to the institution is the surest warrant of the fidelity with which our engagements have been fulfilled; and the subscribers again renew them with much pleasure to their kind patrons.

INSTITUTIONS.

The Diocess having been but just erected, and being still without a Bishop, no Catholic establishments have as yet been formed in the Southern portion of the State. There is, however, an ample field and fine prospect for several literary and charitable institutions, which will no doubt spring up in various parts.

Four Sisters of St. Joseph, a branch of the Mother-house at Carondelet, Mo., have resumed the female school at Cahokia.

Flourishing male and female schools are attached to the churches of St. Lawrence and St. Boniface in Quincy; and several other, chiefly German, schools are in operation throughout the new diocess.

REMARKS.—The missions of the diocess of Little Rock would require several active and zealous clergymen in addition to the number already engaged. The Catholic population, though much on the increase, must be acknowledged to be small when compared with other more favored missions east of the Mississippi. Many families have been found scattered over fifty-five large counties and residing fifty and sixty miles apart, who witnessed the baptism and marriage of their children on the same day. It has pleased the Master of the vineyard to visit the diocess with a severe trial in the deaths of Rev. Edward Corcoran and Rev. John Whelan. In a diocess where ample and abundant means exist to support and educate ecclesiastical students, the removal by death or otherwise of ten clergymen would be less felt than that of one in the diocess of Little Rock.

St. Michael's, Menomonee Indian Mission, Thowano county.

The Menomonee tribe of Indians having ceded to the United States by the treaty made last spring, all the lands which they occupied north-east of the Oconto river, are at present located near the east bank of the Wolf, where a manual labor institute, a saw mill and a grist mill are soon to be built for the benefit of the tribe.

The whole number of the tribe amounts to two thousand persons. One half that number are Roman Catholics. Since the summer of 1853 more than two hundred have been received into the church by Rev. Otto Scolla and Rev. Fl. J. Bonduel.

The Catholic Indians have acquired habits of temperance and industry. Most of them have seriously turned their attention to agriculture; others have learned trades. The younger portion of the tribe attend school regularly. The male and female schools number 80 pupils. They receive a common English education, in which many have made much progress. A separate branch of domestic industry is taught by one of the ladies, who teaches the Indian mothers and their young daughters, knitting, sewing, &c. The chapel in honor of St. Michael is located on an eligible spot, one mile distant from the pay ground on the upper Wolf, between Lake Saint Silvior and Lake St. Michael. There the Catholic Indians devoutly spend the Sunday under the pastoral care of Rev. Otto Scolla. The rest of the tribe manifests a marked disposition of embracing the faith—an event likely soon to take place, provided they be permitted to remain under the salutary influence of a Catholic education.

YOUNG LADIES' ACADEMY,

Corner of Swan and Terrace streets, Buffalo, N. Y.

Conducted by the ladies of the Sacred Heart.

This institution is situated in the most healthy part of the city, and combines in its plan of education together with the benefit of Christian instruction, every advantage that can be derived from the most punctual and conscientious care bestowed on the pupils in every branch of science suitable to their sex. Uninterrupted care is given to form the manners and principles of the young ladies, and train them up to habits of order, politeness, neatness and industry.

The diet is excellent and abundant. The health of the pupils is an object of constant solicitude—and in sickness they are attended with maternal care. Differences of religion will be no obstacle to the admission of young ladies who are willing to conform to the general regulations of the school, but no kind of influence is exercised on their religious principles.

Tuition.—The course of education comprises reading, grammar, both in French and English, writing, arithmetic, geometry, history, sacred and profane, geography, ancient and modern, elocution, composition, chronology, mythology, botany, natural philosophy and chemistry, astronomy, use of the globes, delineation of maps, domestic economy, plain and fancy needle work, embroidery of every description, in silk, chenille, gold and silver, artificial flowers, &c., &c.

Orphan Asylum, attached to the congregation of St. Mary's Church, Buffalo, under the charge of Sisters of Notre Dame. Number of orphans, 40.

Asylum for Widows, Lying-in-Women, and Foundlings.—The Sisters of Charity have begun the good work of an Asylum for poor widows, lying-in-women, and foundlings, in temporary buildings, on the lot donated for the purpose, until a larger house can be erected.

A few of each class for whom this charity was instituted, are now inmates of the house, and enjoy its benefits. Such an institution is eminently necessary, in so great a thoroughfare as Buffalo ; but as the Sisters have no funds, no revenue, they cannot at first extend their charity as freely and as widely as they wish. They offer their kindest sisterly care to all the suffering, without distinction of religion ; but they must depend for the support of the poor inmates on the generosity of those whom the God of mercy fits, by his spirit of charity, and by his blessings of prosperity, for being stewards of His divine bounty. The Sisters will gladly divide the last crust of bread with the poor, but they must obtain from the charitable even that crust in order to be able to divide it. This they promise, that no one will be turned from their door, as long as they have room to receive, or means to nourish the suffering. Sister Rosaline Brown, Sr. Servant.

Parish Schools at Buffalo, Rochester, Lockport, Lancaster, and other places, containing about four thousand scholars.

The schools at St. Mary's, Buffalo, and St. Joseph's, Rochester, contain 1,100 children; the girls are taught by the Sisters of Notre Dame.

INSTITUTIONS.

CONVENT OF THE SISTERS OF OUR LADY OF MERCY, Savannah, Ga.

In this establishment are seven professed nuns, one novice, and one postulant, who observe the rule of St. Vincent of Paul. Attached to it is a Boarding and Day School for young ladies, containing about 90 pupils, as also

An Orphan Asylum for Girls, which maintains this year fifty female orphans; besides

A Free Day School, averaging about 100 pupils. The institution has been in existence now several years in the city, and was originally a branch of the house founded in Charleston by the late Rt. Rev. Dr. England, of illustrious memory. Its introduction into Savannah is the happy work of Rev. J. F. O'Neill, Sr., who is also its director. Sister Mary Vincent Mohoney is Mother Superior. There is also

A Day School for Boys, attached to the Church of St. John the Baptist, averaging about 100 children. This likewise is the fruit of Father O'Neill's zeal.

The Society of Our Lady Help of Christians, is of late institution. It is under the management of ladies, who do a great deal of good, visiting the sick, relieving the poor, and consoling the afflicted.

The Confraternity of the Rosary of the B. V. M. has a large number of members. They follow the method of the "living rosary."

The Confraternity of St. John the Baptist has been formed for the prevention of intemperance. Members take the pledge of total abstinence, and recite daily one Pater and Ave, besides the invocation to the patron "St. John the Baptist pray for us." Number, about 100.

The members of the Orphan Society pay a small sum monthly for the support of the inmates of the Orphan Asylum.

The Society of St. Vincent of Paul has for its object the providing of means for the support of candidates for the priesthood. Each member contributes 25 cents monthly. The existence of the five foregoing societies is due to the piety of the late lamented Bishop Gartland.

AUGUSTA.

An Affiliation of the House of Our Lady of Mercy in Savannah, was formed in Augusta in December 1853, by V. Rev. John Barry, V. G., and is now in successful operation, under the same V. Rev. gentleman, as director, and Sister Mary Ignatius, as Superior. Besides a Boarding and Day School for Pensioners, the Sisters conduct another for poor female children free of charge. The Orphan Asylum is a solid brick building, large in dimensions, and well adapted in its internal arrangements to promote the comforts of its inmates. Its blessings are already appreciated by the little orphans, who find shelter within its walls, and by the poor generally, whose children find it both an asylum of education and holiness. There are already some fifty poor children frequenting the school. The Sisters also visit the sick, and the same ought to have been said in its own place, of the Sisters of the parent house in Savannah.

Schools of Christian Doctrine, or Sunday Schools, as also day schools are attached to most of the churches of the diocess. The day schools, however, are generally but in their infancy, and are supported with difficulty.

REMARK—The ecclesiastical province of Oregon City embraces also the diocess of Vancouver's Island and the districts of Princess Charlotte and New Caledonia, in British Oregon. This region, in which there are six churches or chapels, with about 3,700 Catholics, mostly Indians, is under the spiritual charge of the Rt. Rev. Modest Demers, who has one priest associated with him.

DIOCESS OF ST. PAUL.*

This Diocess, which comprises the whole Territory of Minesota, is under the charge of the Rt. Rev. Joseph Cretin, D. D. It was created on the 28th of June, 1850, by His Holiness Pius IXth.

CHURCHES AND CLERGY.

MINESOTA.

St. Paul—the capital and seat of the Government of this Territory—St. Paul's—Rt. Rev. Jos. Cretin, D. D., Rev. Marcellin Peyrogrosse, Rev. Mich. Wirtzfeld, Rev. Thomas McManus. The Catholic population of this congregation, which amounts to about 1,500 souls, is composed mainly of French Canadians, Irish and some Germans.

St. Peter, or Mendota, St. Peter's—Very Rev. Augustine Ravoux. Congregation mainly composed of half-breeds. The country around is settling fast. A stone church, very substantial and neat, 75 feet by 35, was built last summer, mainly by the exertions of its worthy pastor and the generosity of the half-breeds, among whom we may mention Mr. Alex. Foribault. The number of Catholics of this place may amount to 500.

Falls of St. Anthony, St. Anthony of Padua—Rev. Dennis Ledon. This congregation numbers about 650 souls. There is a fine stone and frame church standing on a conspicuous block given by Mr. Peter Botineau. Three Sisters of St. Joseph have under their direction a good school in this place.

Little Canada, St. John the Evangelist—Rev. George Keller. Log and frame church neatly fixed inside and outside, surrounded by 20 acres of land, given by three members of the congregation. Population about 550 Canadians.

Still Water, or Lake St. Croix, St. Michael's, stone and frame church—Rev. Daniel Fisher. This congregation may number about 650 souls. The most part of the settlers are Irish, laboring men from New Brunswick.

Marine—visited from Still Water.

Taylor's Falls—visited from Still Water, as well as three or four other places on the other side of the St. Croix river. The whole Catholic population of these different places may be estimated at about 900 souls.

Hasting and Point Douglas, Guardian Angels, church well situated on a fine block. The Catholic population three miles around may be set down at 350 souls. They are visited from St. Paul.

Wabasha, on Lake Pepin, St. Thomas', log church—visited from St. Paul. The Catholic population, which is composed of half-breeds, Irish, and some Germans, may amount to two hundred souls. There are below Lake Pepin, on the right bank of the Mississippi, in the square of 180 miles, a dozen of other settlements, in which many Catholic families reside, but they have not yet made any application for having a church, or to be visited.

Foribaut Town, on Canon river, new settlement, improving fast on account of the fertility of its lands. A church is to be erected here this spring, under the invocation of St. Anne.

* This report was received from the Rt. Rev. Bishop.

Traverse des Sioux—Rev. Thomas Murray, who visits also Mankato and Fort Ridgely. The Catholic population, half-breeds, Canadians, Irish and Germans, five miles around, 600. A church is to be erected next spring here, on a fine block granted for that purpose, under the invocation of Our Lady of the Visitation, or of all Graces.

Le Sueur, on the St. Peter river—visited by Rev. T. Murray. A fine block has been given for the erection of a church, under the name of St. Patrick, in this promising town.

Fort, on the St. Peter river, St. Mauritius. The garrison of this fort, which is composed mainly of Irish and German Catholics, and whose many officers are also Catholics, as well as many mechanics engaged in the construction of this new fort, have made a collection to have a church built next spring.

INDIAN MISSIONS.

Long Prairie, Winnebago Indians, Our Lady of Seven Dolors—Very Rev. Francis de Vivaldi, Canon of Vintimil, has under his direction the school of this tribe. Between sixty and ninety children are in daily attendance at this school, and are improving much under many respects, mainly through the zeal, charity and patience of three Sisters of St. Joseph. Catholic population about 200.

Pimbina, St. Joseph's—Very Rev. Joseph Bellecourt, Rev. John Fayole. This prosperous mission numbers more than fifteen hundred Catholics, mainly half-breeds. There is a school directed by some Sisters of Charity. This place promises to become very important, being the first post on the lands of the United States, close by the British Possessions and the Selkirk Settlement. The first settlement of Pimbina, 20 miles from St. Joseph, possesses a large log church, under the title of the Assumption—it is visited from St. Joseph.

Crow Wing, St. Francis Xavier's—Rev. Francis Pierz. Log church. Catholic population 250. Three other stations among the Indians are visited from this place: Mill Lake, where five or six hundred Ojibaways reside; many among them are Catholics; Sandy Lake Indians, Ojibaway, and Sac Rapids.

Fond Du Lac, on the St. Louis river, Indian village Ojibaways, log church, St. Louis. Catholic population about 400, half-breeds and Indians, under the care of the Rt. Rev. Bishop Baraga.

Remark.—Three other log and frame churches have been erected on the banks of the Upper Mississippi, at Sac Rapids, Belle-Prairie and Platte River. The right bank of the St. Peter's river is settling fast with Irish emigrants, and many German Catholic families have selected good land on the right bank of the Mississippi, above the Falls of St. Anthony, where churches will be erected.

INSTITUTIONS.

There are four students of theology in the Seminary attached to the Bishop's house; four other students are preparing for the Holy Ministry in other diocesses.

A numerous school for boys under the superintendence of Rev. M. Peyrogrosse, is kept in spacious and elegant rooms of the lower story of the Bishop's house.

SISTERS OF ST. JOSEPH.

Their house, (a brick building,) situated in a fine and healthy location on the highest point of the bank of the Mississippi, between the lower and upper town, affords spacious room for more than one hundred day-scholars and a good number of boarders.

The branches taught in this institution are the same usually taught in other academies of the Union. Besides reading, writing, arithmetic, grammar and geography, plain sewing and all kinds of needle-work, they give lessons of sacred and profane history, elements of astronomy, chemistry, botany, literature, music, vocal and instrumental.

The terms for boarders, (always six months in advance,) is $100 per annum, with small extra charges, when the parents or tutors do not take the expenses of washing, mending, music, &c.

For further information apply to Mother Seraphine, Superior of the community, who, with her assistant, will exert herself for the proper instruction and training of her pupils.

An hospital, all of stone, three stories and a half high, besides the basement, 75 feet by 34, in a fine location, on a large block given for the most part by Mr. H. Price, is nearly completed. It affords room enough in its different divisions, for a Novitiate for the Sisters; for an orphan asylum, and many patients. There is besides in St. Paul, a temperance society and a benevolent society, among the gentlemen and among the ladies; the most part of the members of the society of the Living Rosary, and of the Archconfraternity of the Sacred Heart of Mary, have formed a charitable confraternity for the relief of the poor and of the sick, the religious instruction of children, and the decent support of the sanctuary.

CONVENT OF OUR LADY OF LIGHT,

Santa Fe.

Under the direction of the "SISTERS OF LORETTO."

This institution was opened January 1, 1853. Sister Magdalen Hayden, Mother Superior. This academy has already a good number of boarders and day-scholars. Young ladies are taught all the branches which constitute a good education, with music, English, Spanish and French languages.

A preparatory school is kept by Padre Trujillo for young men who wish to enter the holy ministry.

The wild Indians (infidels) in this territory are estimated at 25,000, and several tribes have expressed their desire of being instructed in the Catholic faith, but unfortunately the number of clergymen is not sufficient to attend to these pressing wants.

From a letter received from this gentleman when the printing of the Almanac was nearly completed, we learn that the number of Catholics in his mission is over 2,000, chiefly half-breeds, and that the title of the religious community there is, Sisters of the Propagation of the Faith, who are half-breeds, and ten in number. They conduct an English, French and Indian school, and by their knowledge of the languages used by the different tribes, they are particularly qualified for the instruction of persons of their own sex and of children. They have 100 pupils in their schools. They receive boarders at the rate of $30 for six months. These sisters intend, as soon as circumstances permit, to extend their charitable labors to the sick.

This summary exhibits the statistics of each diocess and of each ecclesiastical province. Some of the figures in the table will be found to vary from those in the recapitulations of the respective diocesses, owing to corrections that have since been made.

From the summary here presented, and preceding statements, it follows that in the United States there are 7 archbishops, 33 bishops, 1704 priests, and 1824 churches, distributed among 41 diocesses and 2 apostolic vicarates, and showing for the past year an increase of 2 bishops, 129 priests, and 112 churches. During the year 27 priests departed this life, 2 were elevated to the episcopacy, and besides these, about 50 whose names appeared on the catalogue of 1853, are not reported for 1854: whence it appears, that the total accession of priests during the year was upwards of 206!

The figures of population in the table are those returned by the Most Rev. and Rt. Rev. Bishops: but as they are not complete, we forbear any hypothetical estimate of the total number of Catholics in the United States, in regard to which there exists so vast a difference of opinion.

* Besides the number of students here enumerated, there are about 118; some in institutions abroad, but mostly in establishments of the regular clergy at home. In the reports received, some of these seminaries are merely stated to be under the care of clergymen who have charge of colleges annexed, as at Springhill, Buffalo, &c., for which reason it is supposed that the number of officers mentioned above are in some cases not all employed in the ecclesiastical department.

MYLIUS' HISTORY OF ENGLAND.

For the use of Catholic Colleges and Schools. An abridged History of England, for the use of Schools, to which is added, an Abstract of the Constitution, and a Geographical Treatise, according to the Roman, Saxon and Modern Divisions, brought down to the end of the reign of George IV. By W. F. Mylius. Neatly bound in sheep, . Price 63

The plan of this history is different from most of the histories now in use. It is divided into nine books, each of which is subdivided into chapters, in which the military history, the ecclesiastical history, the laws and government, and the manners and customs are given separately. In the end of the work is a series of questions adapted to the text.

Extract of a letter from the late Rt. Rev. Dr. Milner to the author:

"Sir,—From a slight inspection of your history, my conviction is, that it is a valuable acquisition to our Catholic Seminaries, of both sexes; as such, I shall not fail to recommend it to them and their superiors, as far as my influence extends."

LOVE OF CHRIST.

Love of our Lord Jesus Christ reduced to practice. By St. Alphonsus Liguori. Translated into English by the Rt. Rev. W. Walsh, Bishop of Halifax. "If any one will not love our Lord Jesus Christ, let him be accursed."—St. Paul. New edition 18mo. cloth, ... Price 37

WAY OF SALVATION.

The Way of Salvation, in Meditations for every day in the year. Translated from the Italian of St. Alphonsus Liguori, by the Rev. James Jones. 24mo. cloth, . . Price 37

CONTENTS.

PART I. Meditations suitable for all times of the year.
PART II. Meditations for particular times and days of the year.
Novena for Christmas.
Novena on the Litany of Loretto.
Fifteen meditations on the Passion of Jesus Christ, for the last fifteen days of Lent.
Three Meditations on Heaven for Easter.
Novena of the Holy Ghost.
Eight meditations for the Octave of Corpus Christi.
PART III. Rules of a Christian life.
Darts of fire.

No subtilty of thought, nor loftiness of words, will be found in these meditations; but the greatest simplicity and the plainest forms of expression. Nothing in them will perplex the understanding, but all will powerfully appeal to the heart: for while they are remarkable for the beautiful simplicity of style so peculiar to the Beatified Author, they are not less characterized by profound piety, ardent love of God, and tender devotion to the Blessed Virgin Mother of God. They are each divided into three points; each point generally includes acts of the love of God, of contrition for sin, and of supplication for final perseverance; and every last point concludes with a short prayer to the ever Blessed Mary.

HOURS OF THE PASSION.

Hours of the Passion: or Pathetic Reflections on the Sufferings and Death of our Blessed Redeemer. By St. Alphonsus Liguori Translated into English by the Rt. Rev. W. Walsh, Bishop of Halifax;—with a sketch of the Life of St. Alphonsus Liguori. "Greater love than this no man hath, that a man lay down his life for his friends."—John xv. 13. New edition. 18mo. cloth, ... Price 37

VISITS TO THE MOST HOLY SACRAMENT.

Visits to the Most Holy Sacrament and to the Blessed Virgin, for every day in the month. Aspirations of love to Jesus in the Holy Eucharist. Rules for frequent communion, with a defence of the same. Meditations for every day in the week, and a Novena for All Souls' Day. Translated from the Italian of St. Alphonsus Liguori, by a Catholic Clergyman. To which is added, a method of devoutly hearing Mass, by Blessed Leonard a Porto Mauritio. 24mo. cloth, Price 37

"The additions to this edition are very important; they occupy some sixty pages of additional space, and they present the translation perfect, from the original Italian, instead of being, as it was, defective, from the French copies. If there had been no more than the simple change of You to Thou, in addressing the Creator, or Redeemer, or the Blessed Virgin, it would have been a great improvement; but here is all that St. Alphonsus wrote on the advantages of, and rules for, frequent communion, with a defence of his doctrine on this subject, and a Novena for All Souls' Day. The saintly little book is a well-spring of pure devotion, and they are blest who assist in pouring out its waters."—The Tablet.

The best proof of a reading people, is the publication of works among them; how gratifying then to witness, not only the appearance of so many new works from our various publishers, but the nature of the works now so frequently offered to our attention. We have just received the work whose title we place above, from Mr. F. Lucas, Jr. It is a republication, the first, we believe, on this side of the Atlantic, of a most valuable volume, from the pen of the Rev. Joseph Reeve, author of the History of the Christian Church, and also compiler of the History of the Bible. The name of the author, would, in itself, be an ample recommendation, but the intrinsic value of the work itself, should recommend it to many purchasers. In the first part, the various attributes of the Deity are explained and practically illustrated. The history and miracles of Jesus Christ are recorded in the second part, in the exposition of the principal festivals instituted in his honor, and the institution of the Eucharistic sacrifice is established and explained. The volume is filled with practical knowledge, and we wish it were in the hands of every body. It is printed on fine paper and clear type.—Cath. Herald.

COCHIN ON THE MASS.

Instructions on the Prayers and Ceremonies of the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass. Translated from the French of M. Cochin, and arranged for each Sunday throughout the year, by W. Jos. Walter, late of St. Edmund's College. In one volume. 12mo. cloth, ... Price 75

CONTENTS.

The Preparation.	The Consecration.
The Instruction	The Preparation for Communion.
The Oblation.	The Communion.
The Canon.	The Thanksgiving.

The object of the author in these instructions, has been to deduce such consequences as may come home more nearly to our own bosoms, such as are most conducive to edification, and best calculated to give animation to faith, and fresh fervor to devotion. He has been particularly solicitous to avoid that mystic character, which, in its attempt to give a mysterious construction to every trivial circumstance, has involved the whole subject in obscurity. His instructions on the various responses and minor prayers used by the church, which are apt to be hastily passed over, and by the frequency of their repetition, become a mere succession of unmeaning words, will be found particularly happy. Our Protestant brethren, who have been accustomed from their infancy to hear the very word Mass pronounced, with indistinct feelings of horror and aversion, should read this book in the same spirit of candor in which it was written.

BISHOP ENGLAND'S EXPLANATION OF THE MASS.

To which is added the explanation of the ceremonies of the Holy Week, as performed in Rome. By the Rt. Rev. J. England, late Bp. of Charleston. In one volume. 12mo. cloth, Price 75

PUBLISHED BY LUCAS BROTHERS.

CATECHISM OF THE COUNCIL OF TRENT.

Published by command of Pope Pius V. Translated by Rev. J. Donovan, Professor, &c. Royal College, Maynooth.—In one volume, 8vo. cloth, ... Price $1 00

The Roman Catechism, of which this is an English translation, was composed by decree of the Council of Trent; and the same venerable authority commands all Bishops "to take care that it be faithfully translated into the vernacular language, and expounded to the people by all pastors."

To meet the mischievous activity of the Reformers and to rear the edifice of Christian knowledge on its only secure and solid basis, the instruction of its authorized teachers; to afford the faithful a fixed standard of Christian belief, and to the Pastor a prescribed form of religious instruction; to supply a pure and perennial fountain of living waters to refresh and invigorate at once the Pastor and the flock, were amongst the important objects contemplated by the Fathers of Trent in the publication and translation of the Roman Catechism.

The world has been inundated with pernicious tracts, teeming with vituperative misrepresentations of the dogmas of the Catholic faith, and loaded with unmeasured invective against the principles of Catholic morality, by the action of the Fathers of Trent, and we are now furnished with an antidote eminently calculated to neutralize the poison, which has been so industriously diffused, to abate prejudice, instruct ignorance, promote piety, and confirm belief, in a work containing a comprehensive summary of the dogmas of the Catholic faith, and a no less comprehensive epitome of the principles of Catholic morality.

To another, and, happily, an increasing class of the community, the present volume cannot fail to prove a useful acquisition—to those who, anxious only for truth, desire to know the real principles of Catholics could they arrive at a knowledge of them through the medium of a compendious and authoritative exposition.

To these important ends we cannot, perhaps, contribute more effectually, than by placing within the reach of all, a Work explanatory of Catholic doctrine, and universally acknowledged authority in the Catholic Church.

The Cheapest School Book Published in the United States!

REEVE'S BIBLE HISTORY.

History of the Old and New Testament, interspersed with Moral and Instructive Reflections chiefly taken from the Holy Fathers, from the French by J. Reeve, in sheep binding, Price reduced to 50c.

In order to increase still further the immense circulation of this popular and standard School Book, the publisher has determined to reduce the retail price of it to the very low rate of fifty cents, from which the usual discount will be made to the trade. Clergymen, religious institutions and colleges will be allowed a discount when ordering in large quantities.

This reduction renders the book one of the cheapest school books now in use, as it contains 476 pages of Octavo, neatly bound in sheep, and it is only with the hope of extending its usefulness that the reduction of price is now made.

PISE'S CHURCH HISTORY.

A History of the Church, from its establishment to the Reformation. By the Rev. C. C. Pise, A. M.

5 vols. 12mo. cloth, ... Price 3 50

The Rev. Author places the prominent and leading facts in such order as to give to general readers a sufficient knowledge of the occurrences regarding religion; this is done in a very clear, simple and pleasing style: there is no attempt at decoration, which would be altogether out of place in a historical work; perspicuity and orderly method are the essential characteristics of the historian—and the author of this work appears to us to have fully attained it. As far as we could judge, by some paragraphs which we have read, the style is uniformly and pleasingly sustained. The Index is accurately and judiciously compiled; so that the references are simple and abundant. It is a work which ought to be generally read.—U. S. Catholic Miscellany.

SPIRITUAL CONSOLATION.

Or, a Treatise on Interior Peace. Translated from the French of Pere Lombez. Interspersed with various instructions necessary for promoting the practice of solid piety. By the Authoress of the Ursuline Manual.

Bound in sheep, ... Price 75

We really rejoiced on receiving from the publisher this most useful and practically interesting volume. Often did we sigh after the hope of seeing it, as we now do, forming a volume of our national re-publications; until lately, we were not aware of a second copy of the European translation having been in the country. Many manuscripts were formed from the original. We do not know a more pleasingly useful book than Pere Lombez's Treatise. It is divided into four parts. In the first, the beauty and excellence of interior peace is exhibited. In the second, we are guarded against the obstacles which destroy or disturb it. In the third, the means are pointed out for its attainment and preservation; and the fourth is a practical epitome of those means and their consequences. We could wish a copy in the hands of all those who believe the possession of interior peace is incompatible with the active duties of life.—Cath. Herald.

An Exposition of the Doctrine of the Catholic Church in Matters of Controversy. By the Right Rev. J. B. Bossuet, with copious notes by the Rev. John Fletcher, D. D.

18mo. bound in cloth, ... Price 38

This work of the great Bossuet—perhaps the most useful of all his writings, and which he composed for the use of a few Protestants—was at first circulated privately; but at the earnest solicitation of some friends, the Prelate reluctantly gave his consent to make it public. The first edition was received with such avidity, and produced such happy effects upon the minds of many Protestants, that in a short time, it passed through several editions in almost every European language.

The value of this work is much enhanced by the copious notes of Fletcher, which render it more clear and perspicuous.

SPIRITUAL DIRECTOR

Of Devout and Religious Souls. From the Writings of St. Francis Sales. Bound in cloth, ... Price 75

The name of the truly great St. Francis gave a worth and character to this work, which no language of ours can enhance. Each chapter is devoted to the elucidation of some Christian virtue, or to the enforcement of some Christian duty. It is one of those peculiarly excellent books, of which we can never tire. It is not to buy it, read it, and then put it on the shelf. Over and over again it may be perused, and then re-perused, and always with profit and delight. A chapter or two might be studied, and made the subject of meditation for every day of life—and to those who have no director of a similar kind, we recommend that they obtain this without delay.

It is a series of excellent considerations and devotions relative to the Eucharist as a Sacrifice and Sacrament, and will be found by the pious Catholic to be a valuable manual in the remote preparation for Holy Communion."

HOME OF THE LOST CHILD.

One volume. 18mo. cloth, ... Price 38

The object of this little Tale, written by one of the Religious of the "Order of our Lady of Charity of the Good Shepherd," is to make known the true nature of the Order and the workings of the Asylums under their care. It is founded on fact, and records in a most interesting way a singular instance of God's mercy.

MRS. HERBERT.

Mrs. Herbert and the Villagers; or Familiar Conversations on the Principal Duties of Christianity.

2 vols. 18mo. cloth, ... Price 1 50

Religion is the only true foundation of morality.—BURKE.

The enemies of the Catholic creed have insidiously poured forth, in religious tales, the most unfounded calumnies against their doctrines and practice. It is right to learn a lesson from their misdirected zeal, to wrest from their hands the arms by which they impugn the truth, and to combat them with their own weapons. It was in this spirit that the dialogues of Mrs. Herbert were written for the use of the poor, by a lady, whose zeal and judgment cannot be too much admired, and who has sought and found, in the holy seclusion of a conventual life, those consolations of religion which she so beautifully describes in this interesting work.

FATHER ROWLAND.

A North American Tale. By Rev. C. C. Pise, D. D.

18mo. cloth, gilt back, ... Price 38

This little tale combines at once much theological research, a thorough knowledge of the world, an acquaintance with men, and an ability of description almost approaching to poesy.

It strikes us that it was written in answer to "Father Clement," although the name of that abusive little romance is not once mentioned—nor are the misrepresentations with which it abounds, so much as even alluded to.—Metropolitan.

THE INDIAN COTTAGE.

An Unitarian Story. By Rev. C. C. Pise, D. D.

18mo. cloth, ... Price 38

The above work, by the author of Father Rowland, was written in vindication of a dogma, which is not only questioned, but systematically attacked, by a denomination who style themselves "Christians." This too, is the most vital dogma of Christianity; for, if the founder of the new covenant was a mere man, the system which he established is not as sublime as that of the old. The reality is not more substantial than the figure.

The prophecies have not been fulfilled.—Christ is no greater than the prophets, less than Moses.—This will be made manifest, it is thought, to any who will peruse this little work with attention, and without prejudice.

FATHERS OF THE DESERT.

The Lives of the Fathers of the Desert, and of many holy men and women who dwelt in solitude. Translated from the French. Illustrated with 18 Engravings.

18mo. cloth, ... Price 38

Christian reader, this little treatise will lead you to a knowledge of the true spirit of solitude: you will be transported to the wild recesses of the desert, or the dark caverns of the mountain, hallowed by the presence of some saintly hermit, and linger awhile in the interior of his cell, to listen to his conversation, witness his penances, and kneeling before that rude crucifix affixed to the rock as an emblem of a Saviour's love, unite with him in pious prayer. It will teach you to retire to the solitude of your own heart, and live amidst the glittering allurements of the world as if you knew them not. "Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven."

ORATORY OF THE FAITHFUL SOUL.

Or devotion to the Most Holy Sacrament, and to our Blessed Lady, translated from the works of the venerable Abbot Blosius, by Robert Aston Coffin, Priest of the Oratory.

18mo. cloth, ... Price 38

A glance at these devotions is sufficient to show that they are the outpourings of one whose very life was to dwell with Christ, and to hold communion with him, and who, consequently felt the most tender and affectionate love for His Most Holy Mother. If they tend to increase a spirit like that which animated the venerable Blosius, in his devotions to our Divine Redeemer and His Most Blessed Mother, the end of offering them to the faithful will be answered.

THE SPIRITUAL CONSOLER.

Or instructions to enlighten pious souls in their doubts, and allay their fears; written originally in Italian, by Father Quadrupani, Barnabite. Dedicated to the divine source of light and heat, the Sacred Heart of Jesus.

18mo. cloth, ... Price 25

Those who read and study this manual of piety, and thoroughly imbibe the holy lessons which it teaches, will surely find all the sweet consolation, and taste all the rich fruit, which its title promises.

Having been written by the holy father while preaching the Lent, it is especially proper for reading, in regular portions, during that time. There is no one whose ideas would not be refreshed or corrected, in some points, by a careful reading of this tract.

THE TWO SCHOOLS.

A moral tale, by Mrs. Hughs.

12mo. cloth, ... Price 50

This tale, dedicated to the Orphans of St. John's Asylum, Philadelphia, and written for their benefit, will be found on perusal, to be worthy of the object for which it was written.

SEVEN VIRTUES.

Stories of the Seven Virtues. By Agnes M. Stewart.

One volume. 18mo. neatly bound in cloth, ... Price 38

This is a series of moral and interesting tales, told with an elegant simplicity—each illustrating the triumph of one of the seven virtues. The stories are well conceived, and the moral ever salutary and impressive. To our young friends we would recommend this little volume with an assurance that its perusal will be attended with more practical good than if they had waded through a dozen of the light and trashy novels of the day. The gifted authoress has prepared a work for which her young friends ought to be truly grateful.—Truth Teller.

The accomplished writer of these pious and moral narratives has ably mingled in them the useful with the pleasing. They are designed for the instruction of young persons, on the practical subjects of humility, liberality, chastity, meekness, temperance, brotherly-love and diligence, and contain an illustration of these virtues which will be read with equal pleasure and profit.—Cath. Mirror.

TRIUMPH OF RELIGION;

Or, a Choice Selection of Edifying Narratives, compiled from various authors, by the Rev. James Fitton.

18mo. cloth, gilt back, ... Price 38

Example is every thing in the formation of character; and there is no more fitting book to place in the hands of youth, whose principles are not firmly fixed, than this one, which illustrates virtue by examples drawn from history. The purity of the morals depends upon the bias too often given by vicious books when the mind is most easily impressed.

PARABLES.

Parables of P. Bonaventure Girardeau, S. J. author of L'Evangile Medité.

18mo. cloth, ... Price 38

This method of instruction is sanctioned by the practice and authority of our Divine Redeemer himself, who conveyed his life—giving doctrine to the people under the guise of similitudes and parables. It is a mode of instruction peculiarly adapted to children.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL.

The Life of St. Vincent de Paul—translated from the French.

24mo. cloth, gilt back, ... Price 38

This work has been published in this small form in order to bring it within the reach of persons of all classes, with the hope of diffusing more widely the knowledge of the institution of which this Saint was the venerated founder, and of stimulating the faithful to a persevering imitation of his characteristic virtues, causing the greater glory of God thereby to be materially promoted.

PIETY EXEMPLIFIED:

With appropriate illustrations, from historical, and other sources; interspersed with familiar reflections, adapted to the capacity of youth. By the Rev. B. Rayment.

Two vols. bound in one, cloth, gilt back, ... Price 75

The examples that are here selected, are founded on facts taken from real life. The authorities are not all given, for obvious reasons that require no apology: whilst those that are given, may be safely depended upon.

Neither time nor labor has been spared to elucidate the truth. With regard to the language, sentiments, incidents, and occasional applications, the author has had in view the advantage of his young readers, by endeavouring to give the most lively interest in his power to the performance.

He has drawn stores from every mine within his reach: his object has been to breathe into the whole work an animating spirit of virtue, a high sense of honour, probity, and philanthropy: these are the powers he has pressed into his service, purposely to refine, and exalt the sentiments of the heart; to improve, and inform the understanding; and to call into activity the faculty of invention and research—the first index of latent genius—the first opening of every future exertion.

CATECHISM OF PERSEVERANCE:

An Historical, Doctrinal, Moral and Liturgical Exposition of the Catholic Religion.

Translated from the French of Abbē Gaume.

This work is particularly adapted to the purposes of a text book for the higher degrees of catechetical instruction. As a guarantee of its being worthy in every respect the attention of the Catholic community, the publishers respectfully submit the following distinguished testimonials and approbations:

I cheerfully recommend to the patronage of the Catholic community, the Catechism of Perseverance, translated from the "Petit Catechisme de Perseverance," of the Abbē Gaume, as a work well calculated to impart solid, historical, liturgical, moral and doctrinal instruction in an agreeable form, and as being particularly well suited for the purpose of higher religious instruction in Catholic Schools and Academies.

† MARTIN J., Bishop of Louisville.

Louisville, April 25, 1850.

Although I have not read the translation of the abridgment of the "Catechism of Perseverance," I cheerfully recommend it to the faithful on the ample guarantee of the approbation of the Rt. Rev. Dr. Spalding.

† SAMUEL, Archbishop of Baltimore.

Baltimore, August 23, 1850.

We cheerfully concur in the approbation given above by the Right Rev. Bishop Spalding.

THE SIXTH EDITION OF THE CHEAPEST AND MOST IMPORTANT

CATHOLIC PRAYER BOOK,

EVER PUBLISHED IN THE UNITED STATES, ENTITLED

THE SPIRIT OF PRAYER,

A NEW MANUAL OF CATHOLIC DEVOTION. By a member of the Ursuline Community, Cork. Revised, improved, and greatly enlarged by the addition of several Prayers in general use in this country, not to be found in the Irish editions. By a Catholic Priest of this city. The whole approved of by the Right Rev. Bishop of Philadelphia. The following extract from the Preface to the Irish edition, will give some faint idea of the excellence of this book:

The "URSULINE MANUAL" having been compiled principally for young persons, the present work has been carefully arranged, in order to supply the increasing spiritual necessities of adults. And as their progress in virtue must be considerably promoted by frequently and fervently approaching the Sacraments of Penance and the Holy Eucharist, especial attention has been given to every thing relative to these two sources of heavenly light and strength. Prayers suitable to all states and conditions have been appended, so as to render this work a complete Manual of Christian Piety, whence all who desire to love God, and to live for him alone, may derive aid and instruction. * * Hoping that this work, the fruit of much care and consideration, may promote the greater glory of God, and realize all the pious intentions of its author, we commit it to the favor of the public, bespeaking for it some of that decided partiality and indulgence, hitherto so liberally extended to its prototype, "The Ursuline Manual." The work is comprised in a neat 18mo. volume, of between six and seven hundred pages, stereotyped from new, large, and clear type, cast expressly for this work, and illustrated with beautiful, fine, new engravings, by an eminent artist; it is printed on clear, white, fine paper, and bound in the most substantial styles, and sold at the following extraordinary low prices, viz:

INSTRUCTIONS on the Holiness and Dignity of the Sacrament of Matrimony, addressed to Parents and Christian youth. By Rev. M. Vuarin, parish priest of Genevn. Translated from the French. 18mo., cloth,..... 38

The holiness of Christian marriage is too little known by the greater part of those who contract this religious engagement; the duties it imposes both as spouses and as parents are still less generally appreciated. Hence the disturbance of domestic peace, the bad education of children and the violation of the Sacrament. Those that are already engaged in the holy state of matrimony, and those about entering into it, will derive great benefit from a careful perusal of this little volume.

The utmost care is observed in the Compilation and Revision of these Books. They are adapted to all parts of the United States, and may be relied on as combining a degree of unsurpassed elegance, accuracy, and cheapness

ST. VINCENT'S MANUAL.—A new, cheap, and Revised Edition of this STANDARD PRAYER BOOK has just been published, varying in price from 50 cents to $10 per copy. The extensive sale and universal favour with which this work has been received, are gratifying evidences to the Publishers, that they have accomplished what they originally designed to make, a Standard Prayer Book, adapted to all parts of this country and Canada, which in point of cheapness, accuracy, elegance of Printing, Illustrations, and Binding, might justly be considered the best and most beautiful Catholic Prayer Book in the English Language. The Publishers take great pleasure in inviting attention to the Approbation of the Most Rev. Archbishop of Baltimore, and the Right Rev. Bishops of the United States who composed the Seventh Provincial Council, held in Baltimore in May, 1849, and the National Council in May, 1852, recommending this Book as being the MOST COMPLETE, COMPREHENSIVE, and ACCURATE PRAYER BOOK published. The Right Rev. Bishops of Montreal and Toronto, Canada, have kindly extended their approbation to, and recommended the use of this book to be faithful of their respective dioceses.

SCHOOL BOOKS.

They desire to invite particular attention to their STANDARD SCHOOL BOOKS, most of them having been compiled, or carefully revised by M. J. Kerney, A. M., a Catholic gentleman of distinguished ability, and a practical teacher of many years' experience. The others, with few exceptions, were originally published by the Metropolitan Press, under the auspices and careful supervision of the Eminent Professors of St. Mary's College, Baltimore. These considerations they trust will be sufficient to invite a careful examination from the principals and conductors of Catholic Institutions throughout the country.

They take pleasure in announcing to their friends and the public, that they have completed their arrangements, by which they are now enabled to keep constantly on hand a large and choice assortment of almost every thing required in connection with the Catholic Book Business. They deem it unnecessary to enlarge on the advantages to be derived from this combination, as the convenience and saving of time and expense, in being able to purchase every thing at one place, will be at once apparent.

☞ ORDERS are respectfully solicited, to which the most careful and prompt attention will be given.

"Whoever has a family Bible in English should have 'Dixon's Introduction' by its side, to explain the text, to direct the reader, and to refute the historical calumnies with which many are apt to assail the Catholic version. The Publishers, in offering such a work, accurate enough for the scholar, yet clear enough for the unlearned, have supplied a void in every Catholic library, and done every Catholic parent in America a personal service." American Celt.

Audin's History of the Life, Writings, and Doctrines of Luther. A new translation by Turnbull..... 2 vols. 8vo 3 75

Extract from the Author's Preface.—"There is no writer, however small the part which he has taken in these disputes, whether on our side or on that of Luther, whose productions we have not carefully studied. In order to judge of the Reformer, we have visited one by one the vast cities of the dead where the ashes of Protestants and Catholics promiscuously lie. We have ransacked the libraries of Mayence, Erfurt, Cologne, Strasburg, Lyons, Florence, and above all, of the Vatican, where so many treasures are buried."

"One of the best historical biographies ever composed is that which the author, M. Audin, has justly designated a 'History of the Life, Writings, and Doctrines of Luther;' and a great benefit has been conferred upon English literature by the manner in which an accomplished scholar and an able linguist, like Mr. Turnbull, has performed the duties of a translator of such a work.

"Mr. Turnbull's translation is worthy of the fame acquired by Audin; and no man can sit down to its perusal without being gratified with the taste, skill, judgment, and tact exhibited in the translation of this truly valuable and important work."—Dublin Weekly Telegraph.

"Catholics cannot but feel a deep and painful interest in the origin and progress of that great religious revolt, which has caused the loss of so many millions of souls, and of which the miserable religious and social dissensions of these days are the natural and necessary result. And so those who (from whatever cause) are separated from the one true Fold, and sincerely wish to be guided into the Truth, wherever and whatever it may be, cannot fail to derive much instruction from the volume before us. How many are there who view the past with some regret, seeing, as they do, what have been the consequences of that great revolt, whilst they have not the courage to face the question in all its bearings, and boldly to trace to its origin their religious system! And yet it would appear a most natural and reasonable course, to endeavor to determine its real character, by seeing how, and under what circumstances it first arose, and who were the first teachers of the new doctrines."

The "Lives of the Saints," by the Rev. Alban Butler, being a work of acknowledged merit, full of sound instruction, and abounding in edification, originally published by the Metropolitan Press, and now republished by John Murphy & Co., I hereby approve of, and recommend it to the faithful. Given under my hand, at Baltimore, this 13th day of March, 1854.

To a work so well and so favorably known as the Lives of the Saints, it is deemed unnecessary to say any thing by way of commendation. Suffice it to state, that the present edition has been gotten up with the greatest care, under the supervision of the eminent Professors of St. Mary's College, Baltimore. It is printed on fine paper, from a good, clear, and bold type, and may justly be considered the most complete as it is unquestionably the cheapest edition published.

We shall therefore content ourselves with stating, that the main, nay, the only reasons for publishing this new edition of the Lives of the Saints are, first, to present to the Catholics of the United States the complete work of the venerable author, with all the notes and remarks which he added to the lives of the principal saints, and which contain so much useful information; and, in the second place, to put the work, in this complete form, at a price so low as to enable all, even the poorest, to procure it without inconvenience.

BRIEF EXTRACTS FROM NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

"We are much gratified in being able to announce the appearance of a new edition of this invaluable work, from the press of Messrs. Murphy & Co., of Baltimore. The novel and elegant style of execution which forms the chief characteristic of the present edition, cannot fail to excite the admiration of the most critical; and, in our opinion, places it in advance of any that has yet been issued from the American press. The binding is strong, and richly wrought in drab and gold, the paper is of a superior quality, and the print beautifully clear; while the low price at which it is offered will, we trust, contribute to ensure it a circulation equal to its merits. As regards the intrinsic value of the work, we have only to remark it is compiled from the complete editions of Butler's Lives of the Saints, with an introductory account of the life and writings of the venerable author, and bearing at the commencement a letter of approbation from the venerable Archbishop of Baltimore. In conclusion we hope that as the chief motive of the publishers was to aid the diffusion of Catholic Literature, their exertions may prove successful, and that those Catholics who are without the Lives of the Saints will avail themselves of the handsome and cheap edition to which we allude."

Halifax Catholic.

"Messrs. Murphy & Co. have favored us with their new edition of this invaluable work, in four volumes. The style in which this work is got up excels any thing we have lately seen. The price at which the publishers have placed the work will, we are satisfied, ensure them a very large sale.

Toronto Catholic Citizen.

"To the publishers we are indebted for a copy of this standard work, which will stand competition with any edition hitherto issued in this country. It is a reprint of the old Metropolitan edition, and reflects great credit on its enterprising publishers. We can honestly state it as our sincere conviction, that we have never seen a copy of the "Lives of the Saints," which, considering its price, made a better appearance.

"Our readers are aware that the above work of the Rev. Alban Butler, is indispensable in a Catholic library, as well as in the library of a Catholic. The pious deeds of the holy men who have in all ages given a lustre to the Church, by their eminent sanctity and virtues, and in regard to which, so much skeptical ignorance prevails, are subjects with which every Catholic should be familiar. The present work is in the reach of persons of the smallest means, and we hope the application for it by the Catholic public will soon exhaust many editions."

Southern Journal.

"The Rev. Alban Butler, in the mid-darkness of the last century as it lowered over Britain, composed and published in Paris, his "Lives of the Saints," the first sacred biography, in any language. Into this work he condensed all the Roman martyrologies from that attributed to St. Jerome, down to that of Benedict XIV., printed at Cologne in 1751. He also made use of nearly every thing in the ecclesiastical histories, whether national or universal, bearing on these subjects. The result of all this learning and labor is seen in the four great volumes now before us, which were never before better, if so well, printed and bound, as in Murphy's edition."

Christianity and the Church, by the Rev. C. Constantine Pise, D.D., author of "Father Rowland," "Aletheia," etc.....cap. 8vo, cloth 75

The object of this work is to trace Christianity and the Church—one and the same—from the beginning of the world; to give a brief outline of the history of religion, as it emanated from the bosom of God, was communicated to our first parents, and spread with the human race, gradually developing and becoming more bright until the "rising of the Orient from on high" imparted to it its full extension and splendor.

"This is a new fruit of the industry and zeal of the gifted author. It presents the acknowledgments of many distinguished writers of the various doctrines of the Church, and is calculated to exercise a salutary influence on the young especially, who are apt to imagine that men of genius seldom believe the mysteries of religion."

"Mr. Olier was one of the deepest spiritual writers of the seventeenth century, or perhaps of modern times. A Protestant who would read the little work before us, which exhibits the spirit of Jesus Christ and the sentiments that belong to his followers, would no doubt consider the author a rigorist who teaches what is beyond the capabilities of human nature; for Protestantism has smoothed the way of Christian morality and adapted it to most of those weaknesses and frailties which we carry with us from our very birth. But the Catholic will find in the spiritual catechism of Mr. Olier, an admirable illustration of the spirit which his church inculcates, and a most practical method of introducing it into his various duties and actions." *U. Library Editions of Fredet's Universal Histories.

New and Improved Editions, carefully revised and corrected by the Author.

These two volumes form a COMPLETE COURSE OF HISTORY, or a continuous chain of Historical Events, from the CREATION OF THE WORLD TO THE YEAR 1854.

Ancient History: from the dispersion of the Sons of Noe, to the Battle of Actium, and change of the Roman Republic into an Empire. By Peter Fredet, D. D., Prof. of History in St. Mary's College, Baltimore. Fourth Edition, carefully revised and enlarged.....12mo, cloth 1 25

Modern History: from the coming of Christ and the change of the Roman Republic into an Empire, to the year of our Lord 1854. By Peter Fredet, D. D., Prof. of History in St. Mary's College, Baltimore. Tenth enlarged and improved edition, in 1 vol. 12mo, cloth, 1 25.....Lib. style, mar. edges 1 50

The publishers are happy to announce that they have just issued new, enlarged, and improved editions of the above works, in uniform style. Each volume contains upwards of five hundred pages, and may justly be considered the cheapest, most authentic, and convenient work of reference published. The two volumes form a complete connection or continuous chain of historical events from the Creation of the World to the year 1854. Every one who desires to consult reliable history, should procure these works for his library. The distinguished and wide-spread reputation of the author as a historian and Professor of History in St. Mary's College for the last twenty years, and the universal favour with which these works have been received, precludes the necessity of giving many of the numerous complimentary and flattering testimonials that have been so freely extended to them by the English and American Press.

The Dublin Tablet says: "These two volumes are plain, copious, and useful summaries of ancient and modern history, and the number of editions through which they have passed will show their popularity in the United States. We observe that in the earlier portion of ancient history the compiler generally follows the old established view of the Rollins and Boussets, and gives the popular, matter-of-fact narrative of events like the Trojan war, the history of Romulus, &c. &c. This, after all, is the best plan. Any misconceptions are easily corrected, while summaries which are constructed on the modern theories of critics, like Niebuhr, labour under a variety of disadvantages. In the first place, such theories, were they ever so ingenious, are continually changing. In Grecian history, Grote would throw aside, with utter skepticism, 'myths,' in which Thirlwall is ready to recognise some traces of fact, and probably a future historian will subject the same to some new and totally different analyses. The simplest plan, therefore, is to state just what the ancients believed of their early history, at the same time reminding them of the many disputes which exist on the subject. For young minds, also, nothing can be more injurious than a doubting, skeptical manner of teaching even secular history. The Modern History is carried down to a late period, the year 1854, and furnishes a convenient introduction to impart to the youthful reader an acquaintance with the contemporary events of Europe and America."

The London Catholic Standard says: "These two excellent manuals of history have a wide and increasing circulation in America, and are everywhere held in the highest esteem. The compiler, Dr. Fredet, has won to himself a high reputation for his great acquirements and admirable skill as a professor. His well-earned fame will suffer no diminution from the publication of these two excellent volumes. He has achieved a task of no ordinary difficulty, in compressing so much recondite matter into so small a space; in leaving untold nothing that was of note of the immense and varied annals of the world. No college, school, or library ought to be without these excellent works."

The Dublin Telegraph says: "Fredet's Histories have been adopted, as a class-book, by the Irish Catholic University; and we entertain no doubt, that they will soon supersede, even in other establishments, those miserable compilations which wilful perverters of truth have long palmed upon the public—both Catholic and Protestant—as histories, and abridgments of histories."

The Catholic Instructor says: "We hope these Histories will soon find their way, not only into every library and literary institution among us, but also into every private family, in order that those who have read history through false mediums may have the truth before them, whenever they wish to search for it; and that the young may learn the past from pure and uncorrupted sources."

The Catholic Sentinel says: "These beautiful treatises are quite deserving of the patronage which they obtain. If there be any thing unknown to our all-learned generation, it is history. And if such a history as Dr. Fredet's is, could become universally used in our schools, colleges, and private families, some people who think they know every thing, would know a great deal more; and could far easier pass through respectable society. They are most commendable for their Christian and unbiassed spirit. And we are not astonished that Dr. Fredet has his name taken up by the Irish University, proud that America has made therein such an inroad upon the abridged histories heretofore existing in the Protestant style of Anglo-Saxonism."

The Metropolitan says: "The style is veritably charming by its simplicity, and by the quiet love of his subject which the reverend author constantly displays. This interest felt by himself is naturally infused into the narrative, so that it is no wonder it becomes, however familiar, however concisely expressed, invested with a pleasing freshness in his hands. It is the language of a talented and successful teacher, who relates to his class the great events of time, succinctly but graphically, without bombast, yet in a lively and picturesque manner. It is thus that history should be written for youth. Of the more substantial merits of Fredet, at this day it is superfluous to speak. We have but one fault to find with his histories, and some may consider it a merit—they are too brief."

Father Oswald, a genuine Catholic story, 18mo, cloth, 50.....cl. gt. edg. 75

Fenélon on the Education of a Daughter, 18mo, cl. 50.....cl. gt. edg. 75

"Nothing can be of greater importance to parents than to learn the difficult art of successfully training the youthful mind, and of giving to the female children under their charge that physical and moral education which will fit them to be useful members of society, and to fulfil the great end for which they were placed in this world. The vast majority of parents are but too lamentably ignorant of their duties in this respect, and the consequences of it are but too keenly felt even by themselves, though at a period when it is too late to repair the effects of their culpable inattention. The work before us is a manual of excellent instructions on this all-important subject, and every family should be provided with a copy of it." U. S. Catholic Magazine.

Garden of Roses and Valley of Lilies, by Thos. à Kempis.....32mo, cloth 25 cloth, gilt edges 38.....im. tur., gilt ed. 75.....turkey, sup. ex. 1 00

"Of the many admirable works written by the celebrated author, this is, perhaps, the most generally useful, as it is unquestionably the most practical. With a noble sublimity in its devotion, and an affecting unction in its piety, it unites a charming attraction in its style, and a beautiful simplicity in its details, equally adapted to every sex, age, state, or condition of life, interior or exterior. It is from the pen of an author who was deeply imbued with the spirit of God, and whose lessons cannot fail to be an effectual safeguard against the dangers and temptations of the world. Whoever enters with proper dispositions this spiritual garden, or wanders along the quiet vale to which the author of this little book invites him, must necessarily imbibe the rich and delightful fragrance of those heavenly virtues, which form the excellence and perfection of the Christian character."

Embellished with a fine steel Portrait of the illustrious saint.....12mo, cloth 1 25.....cloth, gt. ed. and sides 2 00

Another edition, printed on large, fine paper, suitable for libraries.....8vo, sheep 2 25

EXTRACTS FROM THE PREFACE.—"The compiler long since noticed with regret, that there was no Life of St. Alphonsus published in the English language which adequately set forth the merits of that illustrious Saint, and displayed his many claims to our admiration and respect. In order to supply this deficiency, he undertook, more than ten years ago, a translation of the Life of the Saint from the Italian; but various circumstances occurred to retard its completion. As soon, therefore, as his occupations permitted, he resumed his undertaking; but thinking that a compilation would answer his purpose better than the proposed translation, he was induced to change his original plan, and to prepare for publication the work which is now presented. While, however, he has attempted nothing beyond a mere compilation, care has been taken to unite completeness with brevity, and he believes that the portrait of St. Alphonsus which is given in the following pages, could not have been rendered more perfect and true otherwise than by the entire reproduction of the voluminous memoirs already published.

"There is no occasion to enlarge here upon the merits of the Saint. During a life time of ninety years, laboriously occupied in the service of God and in the salvation of souls, he exhibited continually such splendid examples of every virtue, that the mere narration of them will be at once his best panegyric, and the most persuasive exhortations to the imitation of his holiness."

Life of St. Vincent de Paul, Founder of the Congregation of the Missions, and of the Sisters of Charity.....cloth extra 50.....cloth, gilt edges 75

"This volume is neatly executed, and well deserves all the typographical excellence that can be bestowed upon it. It is one of those books which may be said to contain the quintessence of all that is admirable in the practical influence of our faith, and to place it before the reader in a form equally interesting and instructive. Few biographies of the saints could be found to possess a greater interest than that of St. Vincent of Paul; none could be more practically useful. His life was so unequivocally and so copiously fruitful in every species of good works, that it has been eulogized even by Protestant pens. The volume which has just appeared should for this reason be introduced into every Catholic family." U. S. Catholic Magazine.

Life of St. Patrick, Apostle of Ireland—to which are added the Lives of St. Bridget, Virgin and Abbess, and St. Columba, Abbot and Apostle of the Northern Picts. Embellished with a fine Portrait.....12mo, cloth 50

"There is no department in Irish history which, for the Irish reader, should possess more true interest than the ecclesiastical annals of his country. They are almost the only record over which he may pore with unmixed satisfaction and unalloyed national pride. As with Italy, so also with Ireland, the Catholic religion has been the only unity which for centuries she possessed—the only unpurchased and unpurchasable body which has survived the fiery ordeal of persecution and misery through which the country has passed. The history of the Irish Church, and consequently the biography of those of her sons who were most eminent for their piety, has ever been a favorite study of the youth of Ireland, and to no more useful branch could they apply. In this country, where so many of our fellow countrymen have found a home and a free altar, every work which in any way illustrates the history of their fatherland must prove invaluable. Hence, we hail with pleasure a new edition of this useful work—the Life of the great Apostle of Ireland, of St. Bridget, and St. Columba. It entirely refutes the calumnies of such writers as Cambrensis, Jocelin, and others." Truth Teller.

Life of Christ, by St. Bonaventure—to which are added the Devotion to the Three Hours' Agony of our Lord on the Cross, and the Life of the glorious St. Joseph.....18mo, cloth 50.....cloth, gilt edges 75

The merits of this standard work are so well known in the Catholic community, as worthy of the eminent sanctity of its author, and as a vast source of edification to the pious reader, that any commendatory remarks would be superfluous.

Life of St. Stanislaus Kostka, of the Society of Jesus, Patron of Novices. 18mo, cloth.....38.....cloth, gilt edges 63

"This is one of those works which do more for the maintenance of Christian piety among the practical advocates of religion than any other class of books, even those of a spiritual character. The Life of Saint Stanislaus is a valuable addition to our hagiological literature and should be extensively circulated, particularly among the junior portion of the community, who will discover in his heroic examples an accomplished model for imitation." U. S. Catholic Magazine.

THE PEOPLE'S EDITION OF LINGARD'S ENGLAND.

Lingard's History of England, abridged, with a continuation from 1688 to 1854. By JAMES BURKE, Esq., Barrister at Law. With a Memoir of Dr. Lingard, and Marginal Notes, by M. J. KERNEY, A. M. Embellished with a fine steel Portrait of Dr. Lingard. 1 vol. 8vo, cloth 2 00.....library style 2 50

This highly important work is comprised in a beautiful octavo volume of nearly 700 pages; it is printed and bound in the best manner, and may justly be considered one of the cheapest books published.

We believe that it will be at once conceded, that at no period has it been of more importance than at the present to place before the American public a true and impartial history of England. No apology need therefore be made for the publication of an abridgment of Dr. Lingard's History of England, at a price that will at once place it within the reach of all classes.

Although Lingard's England has been nearly half a century before the public, not one fact stated by him has been proved to be erroneous, while the critics of all creeds have joined in expressing their approbation of his great work. In style without a superior, in truthfulness without an equal, Lingard stands before the historic student as the model of what an historian should be. Having thus spoken of the style of Lingard, it is right to add that the student will find that the ipsissima verba of the great Catholic historian of England have been religiously preserved in the Abridgment. Of the continuation we shall merely say that it has been written by an author who has been long and favorably known in literature. The publishers therefore feel confident that Mr. Burke will be found to have written in strict accordance with the spirit which dictated the great work of the historian whose pages he has followed. The sketch of the British Constitution, the abstract of the geography of England in Saxon times, the list of eminent natives, and the marginal notes, will add much to the interest of the work, and will be found useful to the reader, by way of reference.

Lingard's History and Antiquities of the Anglo-Saxon Church.....8vo, cloth 1 50

"Whatever concerns the origin, or is connected with the early history of the Saxon conquerors of England, cannot be devoid of interest for their descendants, however separated by place from the scenes in which they acted such prominent parts. The Antiquities, too, of the Anglo-Saxon Church will be found a most important and useful branch of study for the general scholar; and almost an indispensable acquisition for the theological student; as many of the controversies which, unfortunately, divide the Christian world to this day, have either direct reference to the doctrines and the discipline of the early Anglo-Saxon Church, or derive considerable light from a knowledge of its principles and institutions."

Lawrence; or, The Little Sailor. Translated from the French. 16mo, with 8 tinted illustrations.....cl. 38.....cl. gt. edg. and sides 63

"We cordially thank the publishers, Messrs. Murphy & Co., of Baltimore, for introducing to our young friends this cheap, interesting, beautifully illustrated, and truly Catholic story. The 'moral which it points' is confidence in God and his Blessed Mother. Would that we had more such stories to put into the hands of our little ones." London Lamp.

Lazarine; or, Duty, once understood, Religiously Fulfilled. Translated from the French.....18mo, cloth 50.....cloth, gilt edges 75

"We have seldom read a more interesting tale than is contained in this book. It is precisely a novel of that sort which is wanted for the entertainment and instruction of youth." Metropolitan.

Lorenzo; or, The Empire of Religion, 32mo, cl. 25.....cloth, gt. edges 38

Extract from the Preface.—"The Author of this little book, who, in embracing the Catholic religion, comprehended full well its grandeur and sublimity, and how it inspires generous devotedness and heroic actions, has given in his work a free scope to the ardor of his imagination, and to the liveliness of his thoughts and sentiments; their beauty, nobleness and generosity cannot fail to touch the heart, and to show that the most extraordinary actions may appear natural when inspired by Christian charity."

Milner's End of Religious Controversy, in a Friendly Correspondence between a Religious Society of Protestants and a Catholic Divine. By the Right Rev. John Milner.....12mo, paper 25.....half bound 38.....cloth 50

The character of this book being so well established, as the very best controversial work in the English language, we deem it sufficient to add, that this edition is printed from large type, on good paper; and for the purpose of securing it the most extensive circulation, the price has been reduced to the lowest manufacturing cost.

Manual of the Sodality of the Blessed Virgin Mary. Second enlarged and revised edition, with appropriate hymns set to music, 32mo, cloth 25...cloth, gilt edges 38

CONTENTS.—Diploma of the Sodality; Indulgences of the Sodality; General Rules of the Sodality; Office of the Blessed Virgin; Office for the Dead; Rules of the Sodality; Method of Mental Prayer; Plenary Indulgence, &c.; Litany of the B. V. M. in Latin; do. do. in English; Occasional Prayers; Mode of applying for Affiliation to Head-Sodality; Formula of reception into the Sodality of the Holy Infant Jesus; and the Sodality of the Holy Angels."

"An excellent Manual of devotional exercises is here presented to the public, containing the various offices composed by the Church to honor the Virgin Mary, with appropriate Litanies, and Hymns set to Music. It will be found useful in our colleges, and in fact wherever the children of Mary congregate to honor her. Its charming simplicity and the fervent spirit of devotion which characterize its pages, form not the least commendable feature in the compilation of prayers."
Truth Teller.

On Fashions. Translated from the French.....16mo, flexible cloth 13

"This is a small book, but it has a great spirit, and is one which we recommend all parents to read and study, and all fashionable people to commit to memory. It is painful to reflect how many souls are ruined by what passes for fashionable dress, or what is more properly denominated undress."
Brownson's Rev.

Paganism in Education. By the Abbé Gaume.....12mo, cloth 75

Pauline Seward, a Tale of Real Life, 12mo, cl. 1 00.....cl. gt. edg. 1 50

"No prose writer of America has yet, to our knowledge, penned a more graceful or more unaffected tale than this."
London Sun.

Short and Familiar Answers to the Objections most Commonly urged against Religion. From the French of L'Abbe de Segur, formerly Chaplain of the Military Prison of Paris.....18mo, cloth 38

"There reigns in all the book," says the Bibliographie Catholique. "a delicious simplicity of unction; whoever opens it, wishes to continue its perusal, and its charming pages shed a soft light which scatters shadows, causes difficulties to vanish, destroys prejudices, restores rectitude to the judgment, to truth its place, to religion its benefits and its splendor. Nothing can be more simply written, to be sure, but also nothing can be more touching, more natural, more loyal, more straightforward, more persuasive. It is a discourse without pompous preparation, but full of fascination." The book has had an immense success in France; one hundred thousand copies are said to have been sold in a few months.

St. Liguori on the Religious State.—Duties and Advantages of the Religious State; or Lesser Works of St. Alphonsus relating to the Religious State. Translated from the Italian by a Priest of the Congregation of the Most Holy Redeemer. This little work forms a complete Treatise on the "Vocation to the Religious State."....18mo, cl. 50.....cl. gt. edg. and sides 75

"We have perused this little work with no little amount of pleasure and edification. As a means of ascertaining one's vocation in life, it is invaluable to youth. Age, too, may meditate on its words and precepts with benefit. We would advise every parent to purchase this little work and present it to their children, when about to choose a pathway through the thickets and morasses of life. The choice of a state of life is most important, as on it hangs our small pittance of happiness on this side of the grave, and our eternal welfare beyond it. True, indeed, are the words of the Scripture: 'Unusquisque proprium donum haber a Deo.'"
Truth Teller.

Spiritual Combat—to which is added Peace of the Soul, Happiness of the Heart, &c., 32mo, flexible cloth, 19; cloth, 25; cloth, gilt edges, 38; roan, stamped sides 38.....imitation gilt edges 50.....turkey, super extra 1 25

Extracts from the Preface.—"This little treatise comprehends, in a concise manner, the whole system of a Devout Life, gathered from the maxims of the Gospel, particularly from those which regard humility and self-denial.

"Among an infinity of encomiums which might be cited in its commendation, let it suffice to say that one of the greatest Saints these later ages have produced, St. Francis of Sales, for upwards of twenty years carried this book in his pocket, and never failed reading some pages of it every day; he called it his Director, and recommended it to all those who consulted him in the great affair of salvation. And though that excellent book, the Imitation of Christ, like this, tends to unite the soul entirely to God, yet St. Francis gave the preference to the SPIRITUAL COMBAT, for this reason, because the latter reduces its maxims to practice; whereas the former contains, indeed, abundance of choice sentiments, but does not point out the immediate application of them."

Spiritual Exercises of St. Ignatius.—Translated from the authorized Latin, with extracts from the literal version, and notes of the Rev. Father Rothaan, Father-General of the Company of Jesus, by Charles Seager, M. A. To which is prefixed a Preface by Cardinal Wiseman.....cap. 8vo, cloth 63

THE PICTORIAL CATHOLIC NEW TESTAMENT.

Embellished with about 150 Fine Illustrations.

The New Testament of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, translated from the Latin Vulgate, and diligently compared with the original Greek. Newly revised and corrected, with annotations explanatory of the most difficult passages. Published under the editorial supervision of the Most Rev. Archbishop Hughes, embellished with nearly 150 Fine Illustrations, in the best style of the art.....8vo, embossed cloth 2 50.....emb. cl. gt. edg. and sides 3 00

The Publishers have the pleasure to announce that they have purchased this edition of the Catholic New Testament from the original projector, Mr. Hewet, whose successful experience of many years, in embellishing books, gives them great confidence in assuring the public that this work is far superior to any other Catholic pictorial publication heretofore issued from the American Press. Of the various books which are capable of illustrative embellishment, none seem more appropriately adapted to this object. To the Bible, pictorial art is indebted for its noblest inspirations: its highest achievements have been wrought in the service of the sanctuary. The numerous illustrations, embodying all the most prominent subjects in the New Testament, are copied from some of the finest specimens of the ancient and modern schools of art—thus making this work a complete gallery of scriptural subjects—besides which, there are marginal arabesque ornaments, adapted to each page; and also several hundred ornamental initial letters; one of which embellishes the head of each chapter.

The name of the very learned divine under whose supervision the work has been issued, is an ample guarantee for the correctness of the text—and the approbations of the Most Rev. Archbishop and Rt. Rev. Bishops, so freely extended, give full assurance that this edition is one well worthy of most liberal encouragement of the Catholics, as the Most Beautifully Illustrated Catholic Work ever issued in the United States.

That the Catholic community may judge of the lively interest manifested by many of the Catholic hierarchy in behalf of this work, we subjoin the following

APPROBATIONS.

Baltimore, December 14th, 1847.

My Dear Sir:—You have my cheerful approbation of your proposed edition of the New Testament, about to be published under the direction of the Right Rev. Bishop of New York.

Your very faithful servant in Christ, † SAMUEL, Archbishop of Baltimore.

Mr. H. W. Hewet, New York.

Dear Sir:—The purpose which you have made known to me, of publishing a pictorial and illuminated edition of the Catholic New Testament, is one which meets my entire approbation. Knowing the superior advantages of your establishment in executing such a work, with appropriate embellishments, I cheerfully recommend to the patronage of the Catholic public the enterprise in which you are engaged. The expenditure on your part in accomplishing it must necessarily be large, and yet I cannot allow myself to doubt of your being sustained by the community at large, and more especially the Catholic portion of it. No work of equal artistical beauty has, as yet, been published in this country; while, on the other hand, the cheapness at which you furnish it to subscribers, will bring it within the means of almost every individual. Your generous purpose of appropriating one-fourth of the profits to charitable purposes, to be applied as I may judge best, is a sufficient proof of your earnestness and disinterestedness in the undertaking, which a corresponding liberality on the part of the Catholic community themselves will, I trust, render eminently successful.

I remain, very sincerely, your obedient servant, † JOHN HUGHES, Bishop of New York.

New York, Feast of St. Thomas, Apostle.

Mr. Hewet being about to undertake the publication of an edition of the New Testament, with Illustrations, with the sanction of the Bishop of New York, I cheerfully concur in recommending it to the faithful of this diocese. Given under my hand, this 27th day of November, 1847.

† FRANCIS PATRICK KENRICK, Bishop of Philadelphia.

My Dear Sir:—It is with a great pleasure that I see your Illustrated edition of the Catholic New Testament about to be published, and I cheerfully recommend it to the faithful of this diocess.

Cleveland, July 29th, 1848. † AMEDEUS, Bishop of Cleveland.

My Dear Sir:—I have read your prospectus of an Illuminated Testament, which you propose publishing under the editorial supervision of the Right Rev. Bishop of New York; I cannot but approve the undertaking, and I will cheerfully recommend it to the faithful of this diocess.

I remain, most sincerely, your obedient servant, † ANT., Bishop of New Orleans.

New Orleans, August 4th, 1848.

Dear Sir:—I am highly pleased with your very laudable undertaking,—"an edition of the Illustrated Catholic New Testament,"—and trust your enterprise will meet with the encouragement which it so well merits. I shall subscribe to it, and will endeavor to induce others to do the same.

Very truly, your servant in Christ, † IGUS. AL. REYNOLDS, Bishop of Charleston.

Charleston, S. C., August 12th, 1848.

Dear Sir:—The names of the Archbishop of Baltimore, and of the Bishops of New York and Philadelphia, are such a recommendation to your Illustrated Testament as to render any other unnecessary. With them I heartily join in their expression of approbation.

Very respectfully and sincerely yours, † RICHARD VINCENT, Bishop of Richmond.

THE PICTORIAL NEW TESTAMENT.—OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

From a large number of highly complimentary notices of the Press, we select the following, as embodying the spirit of others:—

"We must recommend our readers to examine this volume; we have never seen an American publication at once so artistically and tastefully got up; in fact, it is a regular chef d'œuvre in its way. It is unnecessary to say that the work is published under proper approbation. The publication, in such highly ornamental editions, of the sacred volume is sure evidence of the good taste of our fellow Catholics in the United States." Toronto Catholic Citizen.

"We have rarely seen a work that pleased us more, or which for the beauty and elegance of its illustrations is so creditable to the publishers. Every page is profusely covered with these illustrations, an dfrom the style in which they have been got up, the outlay must have been very large. Every Catholic who wishes to have one of the best and most elegant editions of the inspired writings on his table should procure the Illustrated New Testament. The work has been got up under the sanction of the illustrious Archbishop of New York, and we presume this affords a sufficient guarantee of the accuracy of the translation." Halifax Catholic.

"This edition of the New Testament filled with illustrations, nearly all of which are creditable and some really beautiful, is a proof that we take some interest in the sacred volume. But this method of showing love to the Scriptures, and attracting the popular mind to their perusal, is, indeed, peculiarly Catholic; all Europe, the walls of churches, of convents, nay, of palaces and the very bridges and the public ways, being adorned with the testimonials of it. This edition of the New Testament, from its possessing in its degree the same charm, is especially suited to inspire the love of Holy Scripture and of sacred art, above all, in the young, and our humble opinion here is corroborated by the numerous high recommendations prefixed to the work." Metropolitan.

A NEW AND BEAUTIFUL POCKET BIBLE.

The Holy Bible, translated from the Latin Vulgate, diligently compared with the Hebrew, Greek, and other editions, in divers languages. The Old Testament, first published by the English College at Douay, A. D. 1609, and the New Testament, first published by the English College at Rheims, A. D. 1582. With annotations, references, and an historical and chronological index.....24mo, sheep 75
The same, roan, $1; roan, gilt edges, 1 25.....turkey, sup. extra 2 50

☞ This is a new stereotype edition, beautifully printed from new type, cast expressly for the purpose; and may be relied on as the handsomest and most correct edition of the Sacred Volume ever presented to the Catholics of the United States.

"A pocket edition of the Holy Bible has been much needed in our country, and we take great pleasure in recommending this as the most compact, portable and cheap edition that we have yet seen." Metropolitan.

The Power of the Pope in the Middle Ages; or, Historical Researches into the Origin of the Temporal Sovereignty of the Holy See, and on the Constitutional Law of the Middle Ages relative to the Deposition of Sovereigns, preceded by an Introduction respecting the Honours and Temporal Prerogatives accorded to Religion and its Ministers by Ancient Nations, particularly under the first Christian Emperors. By M. Gosselin, Director of the Seminary of St. Sulpice, Paris. Translated by the Rev. Matthew Kelly, Professor of French and Belles-Lettres, St. Patrick's College, Maynooth.....2 vols., 8vo, cloth 3 75

"Perhaps no work could be more opportunely presented to the English and American public than this. The temporal power of the Popes during the Middle Ages has been so intimately blended with the public law and acts of the civilized world, as to form an inseparable part of its history; and no student of either the period referred to, or of that of the present time, who closes his books without viewing, through a correct medium, that history, from Rome as the stand-point and centre of influences which have swayed movements of the most vital importance, can ever appreciate those momentous questions upon which the peace, and, it may be, the salvation of the world, has so often, and may yet again, depend. The English and American publishers, therefore, do well to furnish us with such books. It is the duty, and let it be the care of all Christians, who can do so, to disseminate them, that a too long abused public may be set right upon what so intimately concerns their present and their everlasting peace." Catholic Weekly Instructor.

The Primacy of the Apostolic See Vindicated. Fourth Revised Edition. By the M. Rev. Francis Patrick Kenrick, D. D., Archbishop of Baltimore.....8vo, cloth 1 50

In announcing a new edition of this highly important work, which is universally acknowledged the best vindication of the Primacy, and the most triumphant answer to the entire Protestant statement ever written in the English language, the publishers deem it sufficient to state, that three large editions have been sold in a few years, and that the fourth will be carefully revised and enlarged.

The Spæwife, or the Queen's Secret. A Tale of the Times of Queen Elizabeth, by Paul Peppergrass, Esq., author of Shandy Maguire; with 6 fine illustrations, by Rowse. 2 vols. 12mo., cloth, gilt backs..... 1 50

The publishers have the pleasure to announce that this work has already met with an extensive sale, and has been received with universal favor by the press and the public throughout the country. In England it has been most favorably received, and is destined, according to the statements of the English press, to become a standard popular work.

The learned Dr. BROWNSON, in noticing this work, says: "The work itself is one of high pretensions as an historical novel, and has been elaborated with great care and pains, by an author who is already advantageously known to our public, and from whom we have much to expect. It has been favorably received, generally commended by the Catholic press, and men whose literary tastes and judgments we are bound to respect have pronounced it a masterpiece of its kind. It is written with ability, and is certainly a very interesting production."

The London Catholic Standard says; "'The Spæwife' is the production of the author of the work 'Shandy Maguire.' It is an historical novel of the time and reign of Queen Elizabeth, and portrays the character of that great enemy of Catholicity in the most masterly manner. The narrative is vigorous, full of romantic incident, and the persecution of the helpless, unoffending Catholics told with a pen of fire. It will be read with interest, and we have no doubt will soon become a popular and standard work."

The London Rambler, in noticing this work, says: "When we add that the book is from the same pen as 'Shandy Maguire,' they will know that there can be no lack of interest either in the subject or in the mode of handling it."

"In this work there are some scenes which we venture to say are unequalled, since the days of Gerald Griffin, by any Catholic writer of fiction. We refer, as a proof of this, to that noble scene in the hiding place of the recusants—'Whinstone Hollow'—where Alice Wentworth meets with a disguised uncle in one of the proscribed priests so common then in England. For dramatic power, we have not seen its equal in many a day."
Catholic Miscellany.

"The book, as the author tells us in his preface, is 'neither religious nor controversial, but a plain story for plain people,—not in the least dangerous to faith or morals.' It is much more than this, however. It is a highly entertaining and well-written tale. We heartily recommend the book to our readers as instructive and entertaining. Historical tales of this character do real good; and the talented author has put the Catholic public under fresh obligations to him by his just-completed work."
Shepherd of the Valley.

The Jew of Verona. An Historical Tale of the Italian Revolutions of 1846–9. 2 vols., 12 mo, cloth..... 2 00

The Publishers feel great pleasure in announcing the unprecedented sale of this work, and invite attention to the following brief extracts from Notices of the English and American press, as the very best evidence of its extraordinary merits:

"We confess we are somewhat surprised that the publication of this extraordinary work in an English garb has been hitherto untried in this country, and that such an enterprise should have been reserved for the American press. All we shall at present say of it is, that a more readable book we never perused. Every page abounds with matter that seizes upon the faculties and excites every variety of sensation of which the human system is susceptible. We say without hesitation that a more extraordinary romance—viewing it merely as a work of the imagination—never was indited by a writer of fiction. The 'Jew of Verona' transcends the finest works of our greatest modern English novelists as far as the marvels of fact eclipse the most astounding creations of the imagination; and its production by the pen of a priest is perhaps the best reply that need be given to the stupid assertion of fanatical prejudice, that the Catholic religion cramps the intellect and enslaves the soul. . . . We know of no English writer who has displayed the variety of genius that distinguishes this work of Father Bresciani's. It displays a wonderful combination of the best and rarest of other men's greatest faculties; and whether in the orgies of the bacchanalian blasphemers, or the council of the conspirators, or the dungeon of the despairing assassin, or the battle-field, the descriptive powers of the author are as grand as comprehensive, and throw around his picture a spell which is either thrilling, captivating, or horrifying, as the subjects vary, and the truth is placed before the mind by the powerful pencil of the painter. Shakspeare presents us with no character so damnably wicked as Babette; indeed the whole of that part of the work which is devoted to an elucidation of the infernal workings of the secret societies is replete with fearful interest."
London Catholic Standard.

The Dublin Tablet says: "The Jew of Verona, as most of our readers are aware, is a romance by an illustrious Italian Jesuit, Father Bresciani. It has attracted more attention than any similar work since the Promessi Sposi, and while it probably equals that exquisite story, it far surpasses it in the absorbing interest of its incidents."

"This is an exceedingly clever historical novel, written to expose the designs, operations, and characters of the Revolutionary party in Italy from 1846 to 1849. Every Catholic should read it, and so discover of what stuff the Mazzini party really are made of."
London Lamp.

"The facts contained in it are of peculiar interest just now, as giving an insight into the murderous character of the European secret societies, whose ramifications in America are showing by their plots something of their capacity for evil. As a tale, it cannot fail to interest—while the facts are undoubtedly of the highest importance to all Catholics of these times."
Catholic Telegraph.

"With a skill of combination which proves him to be possessed of the highest order of talent, the author has so intermingled narration with dialogue, description of scenery with the portraiture of character, as to invest his work with all the charms of an interesting romance, and to make the statement of real facts seem stranger than fiction. We earnestly recommend a careful perusal of this work to the attention of our readers."

"This little book is one that all may read with pleasure and profit. Parent and child will alike be touched by the useful lessons it contains, which are conveyed with a delicacy and feeling which constitute its peculiar charm. If instead of the trash with which our country is flooded in the shape of cheap reading, the public taste would turn to such works as the 'Catholic Bride,' we might soon look for a visible improvement in the moral and intellectual tone of communities, and a higher standard of social refinement. The work deserves encouragement, as well for the very neat style in which it is presented to the reader, as for the more cogent reason that it is a valuable acquisition to our language, and a 'precious pearl' among the 'treasures of American Catholic literature.' In giving us these interesting letters in an English dress, the reverend translator has added another to the many obligations of gratitude which the American Catholics already owe him." *U. S. Cath. The Poor Man's Catechism; or, The Christian Doctrine Explained.
12mo.....paper 19.....flexible cloth 25.....cloth extra 38

"This work was called the Poor Man's Catechism, we presume, because the author intended it principally for the use of the less educated portion of society, and for this reason conveyed his instruction in an easy and familiar style. But this feature of the book does not prevent it from being equally adapted to all classes of persons, and its circulation among the rich and the poor, the learned and the unlearned, as an excellent exposition of the Catholic faith, is a proof of what we here assert. The present edition has been issued in a very good style, and possesses, independently of its intrinsic worth, a quality which will render it as much the poor man's catechism as that of the more wealthy; it is the excellent quality of cheapness which sometimes even the rich themselves do not disregard. The very low price at which it is offered will place this admirable work in the hands of all."

In preparing the present edition for the press, no pains have been spared to render it in every way worthy of patronage. The text was carefully examined by a reverend gentleman, eminently qualified. The printing and binding are in a style of neatness corresponding with the present highly improved state of the art. The whole is comprised in a neat volume of about 550 pages, and may justly be considered the neatest, cheapest and most convenient edition of this excellent work that has ever been issued from the press in this country. It is to be hoped, that these will be sufficient inducements for all to supply themselves with the work, pronounced by Fontanelle the best that ever came from the pen of man—the Bible being of divine origin.

The Oriental Pearl. A Catholic Tale, by Mrs. Anna H. Dorsey. 32mo. cloth..... 25

"It is written with a taste and ease which exhibits indications of considerable talent. We commend it as a very pleasant and agreeable companion for one's leisure hours."

"This is one of the most beautiful and touching stories we ever read. We recommend it confidently to our readers." Godey's Lady's Book.

The Bible Question Fairly Tested—containing the Use of the Bible, by Fenélon, with Fletcher's illustrations—the celebrated Pastoral charge of the Archbishop of Tours, on the authority of the Church to interpret the Scriptures—Protestant evidences of Catholicity, by Dr. Julius V. Höninghaus.....18mo, cloth 38

We have here collected into one volume three of the most useful essays that could be consulted with a view to discover the leading and specific differences between the Catholic and Protestant systems, and the respective grounds on which they are established. The abuse of the written word of God, and the want of acquaintance with the rational mode of applying it to the ends of religion, are the radical causes of Protestant hostility to the Catholic church; and under these circumstances the volume before us recommends itself with peculiar force to the patronage of the community at large: to the Protestant, who is bound to hear before he condemns, and to the Catholic, who should be prepared at all times with the necessary armor for the defence of his principles. Among the works which treat of the proper use of the Bible, of the necessity of a living witness in matters of faith, and of the sad consequences of private judgment, this holds a conspicuous rank, not merely on account of the eminent worth of its contents, but also by its very convenient form and moderate price, which place it within the reach of every class of readers." U. S. Catholic Magazine.

The Catholic Keepsake, edited by Professor Walter; an elegant gift-book, suitable for all seasons.....cloth, extra gilt edges 1 50

"It gives us infinite pleasure to commend to the public in general, and to Catholics in particular, this agreeable volume. We hail it with especial gratification, as the first undertaking of the kind originated in this country by Catholic enterprise. Catholics have long felt the want of an annual of this description, and they will find themselves in future at no loss for a literary douceur for their friends and children. The matter of this volume is excellent, and in general unexceptionable. This work comes to us with the distinguished approbation of the Rt. Rev. Bishop of Philadelphia, a circumstance which will entitle it to far more favor than any thing we could urge in its behalf."

Travels of an Irish Gentleman in Search of a Religion, by Thos. Moore, Esq. 12mo, cloth..... 75

The name of the distinguished author may be deemed a sufficient voucher for the excellence of this work, which he has dedicated to the people of Ireland, as a defence of their national faith. It is well known in the Catholic world, as combining more of wit, style, various and happy illustration, interest of narrative, and withal, a greater store of learning, than most controversial works of the same class.

The History of the Reformation in England and Ireland; showing how that event impoverished the main body of the people in those countries. By William Cobbett. Two volumes.....bound in 1 vol., 12mo, cloth 75

☞ The second volume contains a list of the priories, nunneries, abbeys, hospitals, and other religious foundations siezed on, or alienated, by the "Protestant Reformation," Sovereigns and Parliaments.

"Though the Reformation was very tragical in its consequences, its pretensions, as an improvement of religion, have justly been considered in the light of a comedy. Especially in England does this view of the subject present itself to the reader of history, and Cobbett, in his quaint, popular, matter-of-fact style, has invested it with a degree of interest which it would not possess in a graver and more polished form. As he relates facts which the best historians confirm, his statements will always be received as authoritative. The present edition of his history is neatly printed, and offered at a very moderate price, circumstances which, in addition to its intrinsic worth, insure it a ready and extensive circulation."

Willitoft; or, The Days of James the First, a Catholic Tale, by James McSherry, Esq.....12mo, cloth 75

To the Catholics of England this little book is dedicated by an American, to remind them of the constancy of their forefathers in the sufferings which they endured for their faith, and to warn their persecutors how vain and impotent must always be the efforts of those who "are found even to fight against God."

"This is a very pretty and interesting Catholic story, not at all wanting in talent or scenic effect. It portrays the persecutions inflicted on Catholics in England at that period. The Catholic priest, the Catholic family, and the concomitants of its associations and persecutions, are drawn with a good deal of sympathetic feeling. This is a story of merit, and of a moral tone which we like and greatly commend. We hope the author may be encouraged by an extensive sale." Freeman's Journal.

MUSIC BOOKS.

Peters's Catholic Harmonist. A Collection of Sacred Music appropriate for Morning and Evening Services; consisting of Motetts, Masses, Hymns, Chants, &c., suitable to the Principal Festivals throughout the year: composed, selected, and arranged for the use of small choirs, with a separate accompaniment for the Organ and Piano-forte. By W. C. Peters.....8vo 1 50

The attention of the reverend clergy, the leaders of choirs, and the Catholics of the United States, is respectfully solicited to this work, which has been prepared by Mr. Peters with the greatest care, with the view to its adaptation to the service of the Church on various occasions. The author's experience as a professor, composer, and extensive publisher of music for a series of years, has afforded him peculiar advantages in preparing a work better suited to the wants of the Church in this country than any hitherto offered to the public.

Peters's Young Catholic's Vocal Class-Book. Part I. Designed for the use of churches, schools, and associations.....small 8vo, cloth 75

"We are glad to see this effort to provide our Catholic schools with a compendium on vocal music and a proper selection of pieces for devotional purposes. The lessons in this work, on the elements of vocal music, are as clear as the nature of the subject will admit. The Messrs. Peters deserve much credit for their useful contributions to Catholic church-music, and we hope they will be amply encouraged by a discerning public." Metropolitan.

Walter's Music Book.—Ancient and Modern Music, selected for the use of the Catholic Church, consisting of Litanies, Masses, Vespers, Responses, Anthems, and Choruses for the Seasons, Festivals, and other occasions, arranged with an accompaniment for the organ or piano-forte. By Jacob Walter. New Edition. 4 00

Dielman's Mass, for Three Voices, with an accompaniment for the organ..... 1 50

"We are much pleased to announce the appearance of this composition from the pen of Henry Dielman, Musical Doctor, a gentleman endowed with the highest order of genius in his particular sphere, and possessing rare accomplishments as an artist. Few of Professor Dielman's compositions have as yet been published, and it will therefore be gratifying to the lovers of the art, and to the friends of sacred song in particular, to learn that our musical literature has been enriched by a mass from so gifted a composer. It is in the key of F; is designed for three voices, a soprano, alto, and bass; is of very moderate length, and combines simplicity of notation with beauty of melody; so that it is adapted to any choir. A Veni Creator has been included in the work, with an organ accompaniment for the whole chant. A mass of this description was a great desideratum among us, for there are very few indeed which unite all the above-mentioned characteristics. The mass before us, though intended chiefly for choirs of modest pretensions, which are by far the most numerous, will be very acceptable in a higher sphere; for, while the whole composition evinces beauty, originality, and the German solidity of thought, there are some passages in it worthy of a Haydn, a Mozart, or a Beethoven." Metropolitan.

"This is a new edition of the small Ritual which was published several years ago, in virtue of a decree to that effect of the 3d Provincial Council of Baltimore. The principal improvements that we have noticed in this edition is its containing in English, French, and German those passages in the administration of the sacraments which it is desirable to express in the vernacular tongue, and the special directions in the rubrics for baptizing more than one person at once. The prayers for the recommendation of a soul departing have also been added, in Latin and English, to this edition. In the typographical execution of the work there has been a considerable change for the better. The type is large and clear, and much more convenient for use, than the small character of the former edition. The rubrical directions also are printed in red ink, and by this distinction from the black letter of the prayers, they impart to the work a truly Catholic appearance; and if we did not know where it had been published, we would suppose that it had been issued from one of the great Catholic depôts of Rome, Lyons, Paris, or Malines. It is a beautifully executed volume." Catholic Mirror.

The Boston Pilot says: "These acceptable additions to our stock of Catholic books came from the press of Murphy, of Baltimore. It is useless, now-a-days, to say that his publications are well got up, for everybody knows that they are. Any house might be proud of the appearance of these books.

"The first is an elaborate work, published by order of the Council of Baltimore, and it is a complete manual for the master of ceremonies, and for learners. Every priest should have it. An explanation of the ceremonies, by Bishop England, is prefixed to the work. The manual, being a translation of Baldeschi's great work, is of authority. Bishop Rosati's name is sufficient to guarantee a good translation. This book was written for ecclesiastics, but it is also adapted to the use of all persons who wish to study the ceremonies of the Church, or to follow them minutely on festival days.

"The second book is one which was compiled for small churches, where there is only one priest, who nevertheless, performs the functions of all the festivals. This statement shows the value of the book to all pastors who serve churches singly. This work is also a translation from Baldeschi, and it was published by order of the Council; it is therefore standard authority."

At the instance of several of the Prelates of the late National Council, Murphy & Co. have made an arrangement with Mr. Hanicq, the eminent Catholic Publisher of Mechlin, by which they will keep a constant supply of the "RITUALE ROMANUM" entire, as approved by Benedict XIV. This edition is printed on fine paper, from a clear, bold type, in red and black; it contains the Musical Notes for several Antiphons, Psalms, and Hymns adapted to the more solemn offices. It appears most desirable that every church be furnished with a copy, which the American publishers are prepared to supply at a very low price. The size is such as missionaries might, without inconvenience, carry on their missions.

SAINT VINCENT'S MANUAL:

A SELECTION OF PRAYERS and DEVOTIONAL EXERCISES, originally prepared for the use of the Sisters of Charity in the United States, with the approbation of Superiors.

Revised, Enlarged, and Adapted to General Use.

APPROBATION OF THE MOST REV. ARCHBISHOP OF BALTIMORE, AND THE RIGHT REV. BISHOPS OF THE UNITED STATES.

St. Vincent's Manual is an Encyclopedia of Devotional Exercises, more complete, we think, than any Prayer Book in any language. † JOHN BAPTIST, Bp. of Cincinnati.

I fully concur with the Most Rev. Archbishop, and other prelates above mentioned, in approving and recommending St. Vincent's Manual. IG. ALOYSIUS REYNOLDS, Bp. of Charleston.

Toronto, 6th January, 1851. † ARMANDUS FR. MY., Bishop of Toronto.

We approve St. Vincent's Manual, and recommend it to the Faithful of our diocese, as a book well adapted to nourish their piety. We have added to the table which exhibits the days of fast, of abstinence, and of obligation in the United States, that which is observed in the diocese of Montreal.

Montreal, Oct. 11, 1850. † IG., Bishop of Montreal.

BRIEF EXTRACTS FROM NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

"Without exception this is by far the best Catholic Prayer Book in our language. It was originally prepared for the use of the Sisters of Charity; and in adapting it for general use, such additions as the WAY OF THE CROSS, the prayers of BONA MORS, MEDITATIONS FOR EVERY DAY IN THE MONTH, the SCAPULAR, LIVING ROSARY, MONTH OF MARY, &c., give it that standard value that will make this the most popular of all our excellent prayer books." Pittsburg Catholic.

"The work is neatly executed; and for intrinsic merit, as a manual and collection of devotions, we would give it the preference over any other that we know in English. Our reasons are, its greater variety of exercises, and especially its large number of LITANIES." Freeman's Journal.

"The excellence of this prayer book consists in the accuracy which characterizes its various parts, and in the numerous prayers and instructions which have been introduced into it. It contains full explanations of all the principal observances of Catholic piety, and of several devotions which have never been published in any other English prayer book, for instance; the MONTH OF MARY, the LIVING ROSARY, the ARCH-CONFRATERNITY FOR THE CONVERSION OF SINNERS, RULE OF LIFE FOR A PIOUS CHRISTIAN, &c. The Prayers before and after Communion and Confession are very copious, and the Litanies are numerous. One of the most useful additions to the work is the Burial Service in Latin and English for children and adults, which will enable those who assist at that ceremony to follow the officiating clergyman. The Psalms and other devotions for the evening service of the church are arranged to suit the different festivals that occur during the year. In short, this Manual may truly be said to be the most comprehensive book of the kind that has ever been issued from the press in this country. It is very handsomely executed, and is embellished with several fine Engravings. Let all purchase this book who wish to be provided with a complete manual of Catholic piety." U. S. Catholic Magazine.

"Mr. Murphy, of Baltimore, has just issued a new Catholic Prayer Book, which we pronounce, without fear of contradiction, to be the best which has yet come within our knowledge. It is beautifully got up—printed with new type, on excellent paper—illustrated with several fine engravings, and illuminated title—presentation plates, &c. and can be had in any kind of binding." Truth Teller.

"The publisher has placed the Catholics of the United States under an obligation in issuing this truly elegant and useful volume, which, it is to be hoped, they will repay by a liberal patronage for their mutual benefit." Baltimore Sun.

"Among the infinite variety of Prayer Books that have been published to suit the differences of spiritual taste, we thought that the art of combining prayers and devotions was well nigh, if not completely, exhausted. The book before us, however, is a proof that we were mistaken. It exhibits in some respects a new collection, or at least a new arrangement of prayers, which will be found to answer most, if not all, the purposes of devotion. It is very neatly printed." *U. S. KERNEY'S POPULAR SCHOOL BOOKS.

IN calling public attention to the following works by Mr. KERNEY, the publishers deem it unnecessary to enlarge on their respective merits. The author's experience as a teacher for a number of years, enabled him to acquire a practical knowledge of the wants of pupils in pursuing the different branches of learning. The very liberal patronage extended to them, and the favor with which they have been received, especially by many practical Teachers, and their immediate introduction into several of the principal institutions of learning in the country, is the best evidence of their practical utility.

A liberal discount to Booksellers, Teachers, &c., when purchased in quantities.

A Compendium of Ancient and Modern History, with QUESTIONS, adapted to the use of Schools and Academies; also an APPENDIX, containing the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution of the United States, a Biographical Sketch of Eminent Personages, with a Chronological Table of Remarkable Events, Discoveries, Improvements, etc., from the Creation to the year 1850. By M. J. KERNEY, A. M. Tenth revised Edition ..... 12mo, hf. arabesque .75

RECOMMENDATIONS.

The Compendium of History, by M. J. Kerney, has been in my possession several months, and, after a careful reading, I believe it to be a very useful book in the department of study to which it belongs. I take pleasure in recommending it to teachers.

J. N. M'JILTON, Chairman Central High School of Baltimore.

I have carefully examined "Kerney's Compendium of History," and "Kerney's Abridgment of Murray's English Grammar." I have the pleasure to inform you that they have both been introduced into the Public Schools in our city. I take great pleasure in recommending them to the attention of Teachers. J. F. CALLAN, Trustee Public School 2d., Washington, D.C.

"Kerney's Compendium of History" condenses much matter in a small compass; and, as a school book, is calculated to interest and please the student; while it makes him master of the principal and most important facts of Ancient and Modern History. To speak of its merits comparatively, I think it equal, if not superior, to any of its kind within my knowledge. JOS. H. CLARK, A.M.

Having carefully perused the "Compendium of Ancient and Modern History," by M. J. Kerney, I feel no hesitation in stating it to be, in my opinion, one of the best arranged works for the use of schools and academies that I have seen. JAMES SHANLEY, 59 Conway street, Balt.

EXTRACTS FROM NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

"Our leisure has not served us to enter into a very critical examination of Mr. Kerney's volume: we have looked through it with some attention, and must confess that we have been favorably impressed with its merits. In the History, more especially, where it is impossible to avoid the relation of facts touching various religious creeds, the compiler seems to have scrupulously refrained from any remark that could arouse sectarian prejudice—a fault in which too many of those who have given their labors to the compilation of school histories have been prone to indulge."

National Intelligencer.

"This very useful work was compiled for the use of schools and academies, and fully meets the wants it was intended to supply; we therefore shall not only adopt it in the schools under our own care, but recommend it as much as we can to others."

Pittsburg Catholic.

"We confess ourselves well pleased with this volume, and believe it is destined to find favor in the sphere for which the author has designed it. Its style is didactic and terse, and while agreeable to the cultivated intellect, is adapted to the humblest comprehension. There is one characteristic of the work which pleases us above all others, and that is the studied care with which the author avoids all allusions and comments that might be in the slightest degree wounding to the religious sensibilities of members of any creed. This is a great desideratum in books designed for schools, as the evil of sectarianism, so manifest in most of our elementary class books, has been long and loudly complained of. We cannot but hope that this work will be acceptable to our citizens, because of its fitness for the objects for which the author designed it, because of its impartial character, and because it is the production of a worthy and intelligent member of our own community."

U. S. Catholic Magazine.

"It is a work containing much useful information, and, as a school book, and for general historical reference, it will be found invaluable."

Baltimore American.

"A cursory examination of this volume has led us to form a very favorable opinion of its merits as a school book."

Catholic Herald.

"We noticed some months ago the first edition of this work, and are much gratified to find, from the speedy appearance of the second, that our anticipations of its complete success were not vain. We not only cheerfully, but earnestly recommend it to the favorable notice of tutors and directors of schools and academies."

St. Louis News-Letter.

"As an elementary treatise, this work will, we should suppose, be, and deservedly so, a favorite in our schools. The appendix of biographical notices of prominent individuals is an original and desirable addition to the book."

Lutheran Observer.

"It fills a place long vacant in our school books. Its style is good, plain, and easy; it is well condensed, and the narrative correct and justly sustained."

Fred. Exam.

"Mr. Kerney has done good service to the cause of education and general intelligence in preparing this valuable work."

Odd Fellows' Mirror.

The First Class Book of History, designed for pupils commencing the Study of History; with QUESTIONS, adapted to the use of Academies and Schools. By M. J. KERNEY, A. M. Eighth revised edition 25

At the earnest request of many who used the author's Compendium of Ancient and Modern History, he compiled the above work. It is chiefly designed for pupils about to enter upon a course of historical study. In the arrangement of the work, and in the general matter of contents, the author has pursued that course which his long experience in teaching has pointed out as the best to facilitate the progress of the pupil in acquiring a knowledge of history.

As the history of our own country possesses peculiar attractions, he has placed the history of the United States first in the order of arrangement, so that it may first claim the attention of the young. This is succeeded by an interesting account of the most important events in the history of England, France, Ireland, and Italy, together with an interesting view of the Middle Ages, the Crusades, and Monastic Institutions.

The work is embellished with a number of Engravings, and has questions at the bottom of each page to facilitate the labor both of the teacher and pupils.

Catechism of the History of the United States; with a Chronological Table of American History, from its Discovery in 1492, to the year 1854. Illustrated with Engravings. Revised and enlarged Edition. By M. J. KERNEY, A. M. 24mo, paper 13

The peculiar merits of this little History are to be found in the accuracy of its details, and in the adaptation of its style and arrangement to the capacity of that class of learners for which it was designed. The favor it has been received with, and its extensive circulation, are the best comments on its merits—nearly 15,000 copies having been disposed of within two years. The present edition has been carefully revised and enlarged; and in order to render the work more attractive, a number of appropriate and instructive engravings have been introduced. These improvements add much to its merits, and render it far superior to any work of the kind now before the public.

"This is likely to prove a popular book for primary history classes in our schools. It is well arranged, compact, and comprehensive, and cannot be too highly praised." Detroit Vindicator.

"This little work is well calculated to give the learner a succinct knowledge of the leading events in the history of the American Republic, from its first discovery down to the present year. It is admirably adapted for the use of schools." Halifax Catholic.

A Catechism of Scripture History, compiled by the Sisters of Mercy for the use of the children attending their schools. Revised and corrected by M. J. KERNEY, A. M. Second American, from the last London Edition . . . . 18mo, hf. cloth 50

"The preface to this work informs us that it was originally compiled for the use of the pupils attending the schools of the Sisters of Mercy in the city of Limerick, Ireland. It has been revised by Mr. M. J. Kerney, and a valuable appendix added, containing some pages of extracts from the prophets, with the evidence from the New Testament of the fulfillment of the predictions given, placed in juxtaposition with the prophetic sentences. It is an admirable book for schools, and calculated to give a far more vivid and lasting knowledge of sacred history than could be obtained from years of desultory and mechanical 'Bible-reading.'" Detroit Vindicator.

"This excellent work is now used in nearly all Catholic institutions throughout England and Ireland, and has also acquired an extensive circulation throughout the neighboring republic.

"The object of the Catechism, according to the preface 'is to render children early acquainted with the truthful and interesting events recorded in the sacred Scriptures; to familiarize them with the prophecies relating to the coming of the Messiah, and lead them to regard the Old Testament as a figure and a foreshadowing of the New.'

"The present edition has been much improved, the questions to the answers being made more concise, so as to admit of their being easily committed to memory. An appendix has also been added, containing extracts from the Prophets, Scripture texts, and short sketches of the lives of the Apostles and Evangelists. The Chronological Table, which has been carefully revised and considerably enlarged, fixes the dates of the most remarkable events recorded in the Sacred Writings.

"We hope soon to see the work introduced into all Catholic Schools in the British Provinces, and were its merits fully known we are pretty certain it would meet with a circulation similar to that which it has acquired in England and the United States." Halifax Catholic.

"This little school-book, compiled by the Sisters of Mercy, and revised by M. J. Kerney, fills a want which has existed too long. The importance of an exact history of the principal events related in the Bible, is one which all will acknowledge, and the friends of Catholic education are under special obligations to the compilers, as also to the reviser and publisher of this work." South. Journal.

"Of the merits of the book itself, it would be superfluous to speak, but we may observe that the labors of the American editor have added very considerably to its value." Metropolitan.

☞ The foregoing works, which form a complete series of School Histories, the publishers are happy to state, have met with very liberal patronage.

KERNEY'S MURRAY'S GRAMMAR.

An Abridgment of Murray's Grammar and Exercises, designed for the use of Academies and Schools; with an Appendix, containing Rules for Writing with Perspicuity and Accuracy: also a Treatise on Epistolary Composition. By M. J. KERNEY, A. M. ..... 18mo, hf. bd. 15

This Grammar is used in the Public Schools of Baltimore, and several of the principal schools and academies throughout the country.

In point of arrangement, this work is superior to any other Abridgment of Murray's Grammar that has yet appeared before the public. It combines the Grammar and Exercise, by adapting Exercises to every chapter and section throughout the work, so that the pupil may have, at every stage of his progress, a practical illustration of the portion under his immediate study. The present edition has been carefully revised by the author, and many valuable improvements made in the work. A Treatise on Epistolary Composition has been added, containing directions for writing Letters, Notes, Cards, &c., with a variety of examples of the same.

EXTRACTS FROM NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

"Mr. Kerney's Abridgment of it is just what it professes to be, and not a new superstructure upon an old foundation. Those who think Murray's the best of all grammars, therefore, will not hesitate much to think this the best of all abridgments."
National Intelligencer.

"This abbreviation of the large and unwieldy volume of the Patriarch of Grammarians has been effected without the omission of any important matter, and is presented to the public in a neat and convenient form. It must find favor in schools."
Baltimore Patriot.

"We most cheerfully recommend this Grammar to schools."
St. Louis News-Letter.

"This is an excellent abridgment of Murray, long a favorite in schools. Fred. Examiner.

"On a cursory examination, it appears to be well adapted to the purposes for which it was designed, and worthy to be extensively introduced into schools and academies."
Baltimore Clipper.

"We are very much pleased with this abridgment, and think the improvements Mr. Kerney has made admirably calculated to accelerate the progress of the learner, and to lessen the labor of the teacher. We feel great pleasure in commending the work to the favorable notice and patronage of teachers of youth."
Odd Fellows' Mirror.

"This popular little work seems to contend for the palm of usefulness with Mr. Chandler's grammar, which we noticed a few months ago. The Presentation Brothers, who conduct St. Paul's School in this city, and who are good practical judges, as well as excellent teachers, prefer this abridgment, especially for the junior classes."
Pittsburg Catholic.

"This little work appears to be exceedingly well suited to the use of the scholar who is about entering upon the study of the English language. It will, no doubt, prove an aid to the tutor, and, by its simplicity and explanatory style, be of great advantage to the pupil."
Baltimore American.

"The general arrangement of Murray's Grammar is admitted to be the best extant. Mr. Kerney has presented all that is truly valuable in any abridgment of Murray's that we have seen, and has made several valuable suggestions to instructors. The book cannot fail to meet with success among intelligent teachers."
Methodist Protestant.

"We take particular pleasure in recommending this abridgment to the public. The notes and observations taken from the original are copious and well selected. In point of arrangement, it is superior to any other abridgment of Murray's Grammar. Besides embracing in a narrow compass all that is important or essential in the original grammar and exercise, this abridgment contains in its appendix several additional matters which will be found highly interesting and useful to the learner; such as the Art of Reasoning, Oratory, Elliptical Phrases, Popular Latin Phrases, with a literal English Translation."
U. S. Catholic Magazine.

MURRAY'S GRAMMARS, &c.

Murray's English Grammar, adapted to the different classes of learners, with an APPENDIX, containing rules and observations for assisting the more advanced students to write with perspicuity and accuracy. By LINDLEY MURRAY. 12mo, half bound 20

In presenting a new edition of Murray's Grammar, which is universally considered the best extant, we deem it sufficient to state, that the present edition is printed from an entirely new set of plates, and that it has been carefully revised, and free from many of the inaccuracies and blemishes which are to be found in other editions, printed from old stereotype plates. This, together with the very low price affixed to it, are the only claims urged in favor of this edition.

An Abridgment of Murray's English Grammar, with an APPENDIX, containing Exercises, in Orthography, in Parsing, in Syntax, and in Punctuation. Designed for the younger classes of learners ..... 18mo, half bound 13

This little Abridgment contains, in a compact and cheap form, a brief outline of the elementary principles of grammar, and is well calculated to impart to children the rules and definitions of the study, without over-burdening their minds.

KERNEY'S ARITHMETICS.

The Columbian Arithmetic, designed for the use of Academies and Schools. By M. J. KERNEY, A.M. Sixth improved edition..... 38

This work possesses merits of a superior nature in that department of science to which it belongs. It is a book of practical instruction; one in which the science of figures is thoroughly explained, and clearly elucidated. The examples for practice are generally such as the pupil will meet in the various business transactions of life. The arrangement of the work is entirely progressive, all questions being solved by rules previously explained.

Introduction to the Columbian Arithmetic, designed for the use of Academies and Schools. By M. J. KERNEY, A. M. Sixth edition..... 13

This little work is designed as an introduction to the former, and is intended for children about to commence the study of Arithmetic. The first principles of the science are familiarly explained in the form of question and answer, and the pupils are conducted in the study as far as the end of compound numbers. It is replete with practical examples, adapted to the capacity of that class of learners for which it is designed, and it also contains all the Tables.

In calling public attention to the foregoing works, the publishers take great pleasure in stating that they have already passed through several large editions, which is the most conclusive evidence of the high estimation in which they are held by the instructors of youth, as far as they are known. The present editions have been carefully revised and corrected by the author, and no pains will be spared to render them, at all times, deserving of the high reputation they have already acquired.

The publishers are fully aware of the prejudices existing among many teachers in favor of old works on Arithmetic; hence the great difficulty of introducing new ones, however meritorious; from such they earnestly solicit a careful examination of these works—and respectfully refer them to the following testimonials of their merits from practical teachers.

Alexandria, Va., November 18th, 1849.

An examination of the "Columbian Arithmetic," by M. J. Kerney, has convinced us of its sterling utility, and we shall accordingly make arrangements for its immediate introduction into our school, (numbering, at present, eighty pupils.) We believe it to be second to none extant, and would, therefore, recommend it to all teachers of Academies, &c. L. WHITTLESEY & SON.

I have examined the "Columbian Arithmetic," and "Introduction" to it, by M. J. Kerney, and consider them excellent books; they are judiciously arranged, and practical in their application. The rules are plain, sufficiently concise, and well adapted to the comprehension of young persons. The explanation of the theory of Proportion is simple, perspicuous, and accurate. We intend to introduce those books into our school. JOHN SLATTERY, Principal Washington Seminary.
Number of pupils about 300.

I have examined with much care the "Columbian Arithmetic," by M. J. Kerney. It appears to me to be a work of considerable merit, and is better calculated for schools of the United States, and for counting-houses, than any other book on the subject that I have yet seen. The general arrangement is systematic, and according to the affinities of different rules. Under the impression that it is an improvement upon every other work of the kind now before the public, I will immediately adopt it in my school, numbering at present about ninety pupils.
Washington, Nov. 13, 1849. S. B. RITTENHOUSE, Principal Washington Institute.

As an evidence of the high opinion I entertain of the "Columbian Arithmetic," I have superseded the use of Davies', by its immediate introduction. F. KNIGHTON, Alexandria Institute.

The "Introduction to the Columbian Arithmetic" is so admirably adapted to its purpose, that we have introduced it in the place of others in this seminary. Number of pupils, over one hundred.
McLeod's Seminary, Washington. J. O. WILSON, L. H. CHURCHILL, Associate Principals.

I have examined the Arithmetics by M. J. Kerney, and unhesitatingly give them the preference over all the various works of the kind which I have met with. Mrs. J. McLEOD, Select School.

I believe that the Columbian series of Arithmetics, by M. J. Kerney, better calculated to assist the pupil in that branch of science, than any other. A. W. HALL, Alexandria, Va.

I am much pleased with Kerney's Arithmetics, and think them much better adapted to the use of pupils generally, than any others I have examined. RICHARD L. CARNE, JR.
St. John's Academy, Alexandria, Va., November 14th, 1849.

I am much pleased with the Arithmetics by M. J. Kerney, and shall introduce them in my school, believing them to be better calculated to facilitate the progress of the pupil in that branch of science, than any other book on that subject.
Georgetown, November 13th, 1849. J. R. COMPTON.

I have examined Kerney's "Columbian Arithmetic," and I consider it such a one as has been much wanted in schools. I decidedly prefer it to any heretofore used, and shall introduce it into my school. M. R. SHYNE, Navy Yard Academy, Washington.

I have examined the "Introduction to the Columbian Arithmetic," by M. J. Kerney, and have adopted it in preference to others. I shall also use the "Columbian Arithmetic" in my more advanced classes. Boarding and Day School of the Misses HAWLEY, Washington, D. C.

I have examined, as far as my leisure would permit, the "Columbian Arithmetic," and am much pleased with many features of the work. I have introduced it into my school.

FREDET'S UNIVERSAL HISTORIES, &c.

The distinguished and wide-spread reputation of the author as an historian and Professor of History in St. Mary's College for the last twenty years;—the universal favor with which these works have been received, and their immediate introduction into many of the principal literary institutions in the United States, precludes the necessity of giving many of the numerous complimentary and flattering testimonials that have been so freely extended to them, both in this country, and in England, where they are extensively used.

☞ Prof. Fredet's Histories have been adopted as Text-Books in the Irish University.

Ancient History: from the dispersion of the Sons of Noe, to the Battle of Actium, and the change of the Roman Republic into an Empire. By PETER FREDET, D. D., Professor of History in St. Mary's College, Baltimore. Fourth edition, carefully revised and enlarged 12mo 88

Modern History: from the coming of Christ, and the change of the Roman Republic into an Empire, to the year of our Lord, 1854. By PETER FREDET, D. D., Professor of History in St. Mary's College, Baltimore. Tenth enlarged and improved edition 12mo. 88

New and Improved Editions, carefully revised and corrected by the Author.

These two volumes for a COMPLETE COURSE OF HISTORY, or a continuous chain of Historical Events, from the CREATION OF THE WORLD TO THE YEAR 1854.

The publishers are happy to announce that they have just issued new, enlarged, and improved editions of the above works, in uniform style. Each volume contains upwards of five hundred pages, and may justly be considered the cheapest, most authentic, and reliable histories published.

The London Catholic Standard says: "These two excellent manuals of history have a wide and increasing circulation in America, and are everywhere held in the highest esteem. The compiler, Dr. Fredet, has achieved a task of no ordinary difficulty, in compressing so much recondite matter into so small a space; in leaving untold nothing that was of note of the immense and varied annals of the world. No college, school, or library ought to be without these excellent works."

The Dublin Telegraph says: "Fredet's Histories have been adopted, as a class-book, by the Irish Catholic University; and we entertain no doubt, that they will soon supersede, even in other establishments, those miserable compilations which wilful perverters of truth have long palmed upon the public—both Catholic and Protestant—as histories and abridgments of histories."

The Dublin Tablet says: "These two volumes are plain, copious, and useful summaries of history, and the number of editions through which they have passed attest their popularity."

The Catholic Instructor says: "We hope these Histories will soon find their way into every literary institution among us, in order that the young may learn the past from pure and uncorrupted sources."

The Catholic Sentinel says: "These beautiful treatises are quite deserving of the patronage which they obtain. They are most commendable for their Christian and unbiassed spirit. And we are not astonished that Dr. Fredet has his name taken up by the Irish University, proud that America has made therein such an inroad upon the abridged histories heretofore existing."

The Metropolitan says: "The style is veritably charming by its simplicity, and by the quiet love of his subject which the reverend author constantly displays. It is the language of a talented and successful teacher, who relates to his class the great events of time, succinctly but graphically, without bombast, yet in a lively and picturesque manner. It is thus that history should be written for youth."

Lingard's England Abridged, for the Use of Schools.

An Abridgment of the History of England. By JOHN LINGARD, D.D. With a continuation from 1688 to the reign of Queen Victoria, by JAMES BURKE, Esq., A.B. With Marginal Notes, adapted to the use of schools in the United States, by M. J. KERNEY, A. M. ..... 12mo, half arabesque 1 00

An abridgment of Dr. Lingard's great work, adapted to the use of schools, has been long and anxiously looked for in this country. The publishers take great pleasure in inviting the earnest attention of the conductors of schools, and others interested in the cause of education, to this edition.

Although Lingard's England has been nearly half a century before the public, not one fact stated by him has been proved to be erroneous, while the critics of all creeds have joined in expressing their approbation of his great work. In style without a superior, in truthfulness without an equal, Lingard stands before the historic student as the model of what an historian should be. Having thus spoken of the style of Lingard, it is right to add that the student will find that the ipsissima verba of the great Catholic historian of England have been religiously preserved in the Abridgment. Of the continuation we shall merely say that it has been written by an author who has been long and favorably known in literature. The publishers therefore feel confident that Mr. Burke will be found to have written in strict accordance with the spirit which dictated the great work of the historian whose pages he has followed. The sketch of the British Constitution, the abstract of the geography of England in Saxon times, the list of eminent natives, and the marginal notes, will add much to the interest of the work, and will be found useful by way of reference.

IRVING'S SERIES OF SCHOOL CATECHISMS, IN TWELVE PARTS.

Revised by M. J. Kerney, A. M.

THE long-established reputation of IRVING'S CATECHISMS, and the very extensive circulation which they have had, not only in England, but also in this country, is the best proof of their utility. The plan of his works is the very best that could be adopted. The catechetical form of instruction is now admitted by the most experienced teachers, to be the best adapted to the nature and capacity of youth;—a system by which children will acquire a knowledge of a science in less time than by any other.

Murphy & Co., having become the publishers of this standard and highly popular series of Catechisms, wish to inform the public that they have issued entirely new editions, with all new discoveries and modern improvements in each branch, under the careful supervision of M. J. KERNEY, Esq., who has prepared for the series a CATECHISM OF THE HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES—an entirely new work.

The following constitute the Series:

Astronomy: containing the Motions, Magnitude, Periods, Distances, and other Phenomena of the Heavenly Bodies, founded on the laws of Gravitation. With engraved Illustrations 13

This little volume possesses the peculiar merit of reducing to the comprehension of children the principles of a difficult, but, at the same time, a most interesting science. It explains the solar system, the courses and the revolutions of the planets, eclipses, the theory of tides, and many other interesting astronomical principles.

Botany: containing a Description of the most familiar and interesting Plants, arranged according to the Linnæan System, with an APPENDIX on the formation of an Herbarium. With engraved Illustrations 13

This popular little work is intended for children who are about to enter on the study of the interesting science of Botany. The plan of the work is admirably adapted to that class of learners for which it is designed. It presents to the mind of the pupil, in an easy and attractive style, the various beauties of the science, and the many advantages to be derived from its study.

Practical Chemistry: being a Familiar Introduction to that interesting Science —with an APPENDIX, containing many safe, easy, and pleasing Experiments. With engraved Illustrations 13

This little treatise is admirably adapted for those who are about to enter on the study of Chemistry, being a familiar introduction to that science. The grand and leading principles of chemical knowledge are explained on a plan that will be found to be both interesting and instructive. Though originally designed for the young, it will be found to contain lessons that may be read with pleasure and profit by the more advanced in years.

Mythology: being a Compendious History of the Heathen Gods, Goddesses, and Heroes; designed chiefly as an Introduction to the Study of the Ancient Classics. With engraved Illustrations 13

To the English scholar this work will prove highly interesting; but to the classical student it will be found a most desirable compendium. It embraces all that is interesting or important in the subject of which it treats; while, at the same time, the brevity and clearness of its style render it preferable to other works of the same kind which are of much greater dimensions.

Classical Biography: containing an Account of the Lives of the most Celebrated Characters among the Ancient Greeks and Romans. With engraved Illustrations ... 13

To the classical student, in particular, the above named work will be found to possess peculiar merits. It presents, in a small compass, the most interesting events in the lives of those whose names have cast a lustre over the historic pages of Greece and Rome.

History of the United States: with a Chronological Table of American History, from its discovery in 1492, to the year 1854 13

This valuable little work comprises within a small compass all the most important and interesting events in the history of the United States, from the discovery of America to the present time. The arrangement and style are admirably adapted to the capacity of children about to commence the study of history. It is sufficiently comprehensive for that class of learners for which it is designed. From its instructive pages the child will learn to revere the names and imitate the actions of those illustrious men of America who have gone before us in the path of usefulness and of fame.

Grecian History: from the Earliest Times to the Period when Greece became a Roman Province. With engraved Illustrations 13

Roman History: containing a concise Account of the most Striking Events, from the Foundation of the City to the Fall of the Western Empire. With engraved Illustrations 13

These two works contain all the most important and interesting events in the history of Greece and Rome. As introductory works, to be placed in the hands of children, they will be found to possess peculiar merits. The arrangement and style are happily adapted to that class of learners for which they are designed.

Catechism of Sacred History: Abridged for the use of Schools, translated from the French, by a Friend of Youth: designed to accompany Irving's Series of Catechisms 13

Murphy & Co.'s Standard School Books.

History of England: containing the most Striking Events from the Earliest Period to the Present Time 13

This work comprises, in a few pages, the most important events in the history of England, from a period prior to the invasion of the Romans to the present time. The present edition has been carefully revised and corrected; every thing reflecting on the American character has been erased, and every thing of a sectarian nature has been removed.

Jewish Antiquities: containing an Account of the Classes, Institutions, Rites, Ceremonies, Manners, Customs, &c., of the Ancient Jews. With engraved Illustrations 13

Grecian Antiquities: being an Account of the Religion, Government, Judicial Proceedings, Military and Naval Affairs, Dress, Food, Baths, Exercises, Marriages, Funerals, Coins, Weights, Measures, &c., of the Greeks—to which is prefixed a Description of the Cities of Athens and Sparta. With engraved Illustrations 13

Roman Antiquities; or, An Account of the Religion, Civil Government, Military and Naval Affairs, Games, Names, Coins, Weights and Measures, Dress, Food, Exercises, Baths, Domestic Employments, Marriages, Funerals, and other Customs and Ceremonies of the Roman People; with a Description of the Public Buildings of the city of Rome. With engraved Illustrations 13

The above works are highly interesting in themselves, and may be read with pleasure and profit by every member of the community. But for the classical student they possess particular attractions. For his benefit they were chiefly intended, and years of experience prove that they are peculiarly adapted to the end for which they were designed. A familiarity with the laws, manners, and customs of the ancient nations will often render clear and explicit the most obscure passages, so frequently met with in the authors of antiquity.

CLASSICAL BOOKS, &c.

In calling attention to the following Works, it is deemed it sufficient to state, that the present editions have been issued under the careful supervision of the eminent Professors of St. Mary's College, Baltimore, and may justly be considered the best and cheapest editions published.

Epitome Historiæ Sacræ Auctore, L'homond, edito Novæ Prosodiæ, signes vocumque interpretatione adornata 30

As an elementary work, Historiæ Sacræ is beyond exceptions. The easy arrangements of its style in the beginning, and the gradual introduction of the Latin construction, relieve the pupil of much embarrassment and labor, and tend in a material degree to facilitate his advancement.

This possesses advantages over any previous edition. The vocabulary has been carefully revised, and the work has received such improvements as greatly enhance its merits.

Phædri Augusti Liberti Fabularum Æsopium. Libri Quinque 30

A new edition, carefully revised and greatly improved.

This little work has long been held in high estimation in our colleges and schools. The many moral and interesting lessons it contains render it a text-book peculiarly adapted to the young; and, indeed, no work could be better designed to initiate the pupil into the study of Latin poetry.

De Viris Illustribus Urbis Romæ,, A Romulo ad Augustum, Auctore L'homond, in Universitate, Parisiensi Professore Emerito 38

This work possesses the rare quality of being admirably adapted to the capacity of those commencing the study of the Latin language, without deviating from the purity of the Latin style. The materials of which it is compiled are most interesting and instructive in their nature, thus affording the pupil the double advantage of acquiring a knowledge of the Latin tongue, and, at the same time, of storing his mind with historical facts.

This edition has been lately revised, and put into a neat, convenient form. These improvements, it is believed, will add to its merits, and will tend to advance the pupil in his study.

Fables Choisies de la Fontaine, Nouvelle Edition 63

Few works have elicited more general admiration, or have been more generally used in schools, than the Fables of La Fontaine. For the pupil engaged in the study of the French language they possess peculiar advantages. Many beautiful and moral lessons are inculcated in a style at once easy and attractive, while, at the same time, a taste for poetical composition is cultivated.

This edition has been carefully revised, and contains much desirable improvement.

Ruddiman's Rudiments of the Latin Tongue; or a Plain and Easy Introduction to Latin Grammar: wherein the principles of the language are methodically digested, both in the English and Latin. With useful Notes and Observations. Thirtieth Edition, Corrected and Improved. By Wm. Mann, M. A. ..... 12mo, half arab. 38

The cheapest and best Latin grammar published.

Elementos de Sicologio, Elements of Pyschology 75

Pizarro's Dialogues. Select Original Dialogues, or Spanish and English Conversations; followed by a collection of pieces in prose and verse—adapted to the use of Spanish classes in schools and academies. By J. A. Pizarro, Professor of the Spanish Language in St. Mary's College, Baltimore. Third edition, improved and enlarged by the author 12mo 75

This new edition of a very popular work, by one of the most distinguished instructors in the country, is greatly improved, and particularly adapted to the present style of teaching and self-improvement. The prior editions have become established as standard in some of the best institutions in the United States, and the present doubles its advantages.

SESTINI'S ALGEBRA.

Elementary Algebra. By B. SESTINI, S. J., author of Analytical Geometry, Professor of Natural Philosophy and Astronomy in Georgetown College.....12mo 50

The main object of this treatise is to render the science of Algebra intelligible to pupils whose minds are yet unaccustomed to such studies. The beginner will here be furnished with such proofs as are suited to his capacity; examples will afford new light to what might be otherwise obscure; with regard to the operations founded on higher principles, he will, for the present, content himself with merely practical rules, exemplified in the same manner. With a mind thus gradually led on to strict mathematical discussion, he may then resume his course with profit, by the aid of a treatise now in preparation, which is intended as a sequel to this, and, by more exact and thorough investigation, complete his study of Algebra.

BRIEF EXTRACTS FROM NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

"This work recommends itself to favor by the admirable order of its parts, and the conciseness and clearness with which its principles are expounded. One needs but open the book to perceive that the author has brought to the execution of his task a ripened judgment and well-tried experience. He is not a compiler—his work has the rare merit of originality, and every student of Algebra will thank him for having given in a few pages what has usually occupied a large volume, and for having rendered intelligible what has often proved an enigma to many." Metropolitan.

"This book might very properly be called "Algebra without a master." One very important improvement that the author has made upon all our text-books, and which deserves to be mentioned, is this, that he keeps monomials and polynomials distinct, and explains and applies to them separately the various rules as laid down in his Algebra. The work only wants to be known, in order to be universally approved." Western Tablet.

"We feel much pleasure in recommending it as containing nearly all necessary to be known on the subject of which it treats. It is eminently adapted for the use of young persons who wish to acquire a knowledge of the difficult science of Algebra." Halifax Catholic.

"To persons commencing the study of Algebra, we cheerfully recommend Mr. Sestini's work, as one well calculated to smooth the difficulties which beginners have to overcome in their first attempts to master that science." Pittsburg Catholic.

"As a rudimental book it will be found eminently useful in schools and colleges." Det. Vindicator.

"The author is well known as a man of great ability, and his work cannot fail to be of good service in schools." Buffalo Sentinel.

SESTINI'S ANALYTICAL GEOMETRY.

A Treatise of Analytical Geometry, proposed by B. SESTINI, S. J., author of Elementary Algebra, Professor of Natural Philosophy and Astronomy in Georgetown College.....8vo, paper 1 25

"This treatise of Prof. Sestini discusses the various topics under consideration by a purely analytical method, and is well adapted to the modern plan embraced by learned professors, who do not content themselves with a superficial view of the subject, but dive into its deepest recesses with no other instrument of research than analysis, and naked analysis. The new treatise is an acquisition for the lovers of the exact sciences, taught in the most exact manner; it introduces some new methods of the Baron Cauchy, a savant well known, and highly esteemed in Paris for his scientific acquirements. As the new treatise is intended for the use of Georgetown College, we are inclined from this circumstance to form a very favorable opinion of the proficiency of the students in the most abtruse branches of mathematics, and it is a subject on which we congratulate the teachers and their scholars." Metropolitan.
